U. S. GOES TO REFUGEES' AID

'Catastrophic Suffering' Result
Of Forced Migration, Warning

EVIAN-LES-BAINS, France. (AP)—Myron C. Taylor, head of the United States delegation, gave a blunt warning to the 32-nation conference on refugees today that forced migration of political and racial groups can bring "catastrophic suffering" upon the world.

Addressing the opening session of the meeting, result of President Roosevelt's invitation to other nations to discuss the refugee problem, Taylor said "general unrest and international strain" were unavoidable results of this migration. He named only one country—Germany. "I need not emphasize that discrimination and pressure against minority groups and disregard of elementary human life are contrary to the principles of what we have come to regard as accepted standards of civilization," the former head of the United States Steel corporation declared. He outlined the scope of the conference at to take in all problems dealing with the "great bodies of reluctant migrants who must be absorbed in abnormal circumstances with a disregard of economic conditions and at a time of stress."

This wave of migration, he said caustically, is forced upon the world at large and "artificially stimulated by governmental practices in some countries."

RETALIATION FOLLOWS
Calling forced migration of minorities "chaotic dumping of unfortunate peoples," he declared this a more disturbing practice even than dumping merchandise, the destructive consequences of which are generally known. It renders racial and religious problems more acute in all parts of the world, he said, and encourages retaliation against the responsible countries.

"International mistrust and suspicion is heightened," he asserted, "and fear, which is an important obstacle to general appeasement between nations, is accentuated."

NITTI WRITES
He predicted "catastrophic human suffering" unless nations try to make a living out of one "anarchical practice" by some governments.

Taylor's address was the principal business of the opening session. The conference was inaugurated by Henry Beniger, chairman of the French senate's committee on foreign affairs, who formally welcomed the delegates. The conference received a memorandum from Francesco Nitti, exiled former premier of Italy, asking that the question of Italian refugees be taken up conjointly with the German and Austrian discussions.

NOT FINAL JUDGES
An Austrian refugee leader, Arthur Rosenberg, told American delegates he believed 75 per cent of Austrians would leave their country if allowed to take a substantial part of their property with them.

The Americans made it plain, that the United States' attitude was one of helpfulness rather than direction. Officials said they were trying to help share plans but "we do not intend to be the final judges of whatever may be done."

F. D. R. LOOKS FOR JOB CZAR

WASHINGTON. (AP)—President Roosevelt studied a list of candidates for wage-hour administrator today, presumably intent on filling the new post before starting westward tomorrow night.

Capital speculation over his possible choice for the $10,000-a-year job centered on two persons—Don Nelson, vice president of Sears, Roebuck and company and a former NRA official, and Lowell Mellett, executive director of the national emergency council.

Other names mentioned frequently included Josephine Roche, former assistant secretary of the treasury; Leon Henderson, WPA economist; and a White House adviser, Fred L. Connelley, an assistant to the chairman of the business advisory council; Isador Lubin, chief of the bureau of labor statistics; and Lloyd K. Garrison, University of Wisconsin dean of law and former chairman of the national labor relations board.

'Halt the Madness of Your Militarists,' Generalissimo Of China Urges Japanese

HANKOW. (AP)—Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek, China's supreme leader, today appealed to the Japanese people "to rise and halt the madness of their militarists."

"What benefit are you receiving from this war?" he asked the Japanese in a statement marking the end of the first year of the Chinese-Japanese conflict.

He declared that Japan's losses in manpower during the year's fighting had exceeded half a million and that the costs to Japan in lives and money already "vastly exceeded the losses of the Russo-Japanese war."

Referring to the "barbarity and cruelty" of the Japanese army, the

Hypnotist and Victim in Death Puzzle

Mrs. Marie Colombos (above), 23, Glendale, Calif., who died under mysterious circumstances after her husband had called Robert A. Gilbert in hopes he might help her, was an expectant mother.

2D AUTOPSY IN MYSTERY

GLENDALF. (AP)—The body of Mrs. Marie Colombos, 23-year-old expectant mother who died mysteriously in the presence of a vaudeville hypnotist, was submitted to a second autopsy today.

Dissatisfied with the indefinite findings of the initial post-mortem examination, police also asked the county chemist to determine if Mrs. Colombos had come to her death from drugs.

Robert A. Gilbert, known on stage as "The Great Gilbert," has been held on suspicion of murder. He denied treating Mrs. Colombos, but declared she collapsed while lifting a heavy daybed.

Engaged as Gilbert's attorney, Charles H. Clark predicted that if his client were ever tried, the hearing would be the "most thorough-going of its kind in delving into the higher aspects of metaphysics."

Truck Theft Case Will Go to Court

Lupe Figueroa, Stanton laborer accused of stealing a strawberry truck two weeks ago, was held to answer to grand theft charges in superior court by Justice Kenneth Morrison today.

Figueroa's bail was set at $1000. He was arrested by highway patrolmen near Oceanside after allegedly stealing the truck from Y. Kubo at Stanton, and served a San Diego county jail term for speeding and driving without a license before being returned here on the grand theft charge.

LONDON HINTS NEW ROMANCE FOR BARBARA

LONDON. (AP)—Countess Barbara Haugwitz-Reventlow's marital dispute with her Danish husband shifted today from police court talk of duels and huge money settlements to society speculation whether the American-born heiress was planning another marriage.

The case against Count Court Haugwitz-Reventlow for alleged threats against his blonde wife stood adjourned in Bow street court until a week from today.

But hints of a new romance at his hearing yesterday—when her lawyers alleged he demanded $5,000,000 from her for a divorce and threatened her with "three years of hell with headlines"—caused many "I told you so's" among gossips in London's fashionable West End.

They had linked her name with that of another titled personage—mentioned guardedly at the hearing as a "London society gentleman"—whom the countess allegedly talked of shooting from the hip or challenging to a duel.

The countess' lawyers also testified the count had called her obscene names, threatened to seize their young son, Lance, engaged in talk of blackmail, and threatened to "shoot himself and others" to put the Woolworth heiress "on the spot" so "everyone would know Barbara had driven him to it."

His attorneys indicated his defense would be complete denials of allegations he had threatened her.

The police court sensations, however, pointed to an early termination of their Reno marriage of May 14, 1935, the day after her divorce from the late Prince Alexis Midvani.

In a letter to the count, the former Barbara Hutton told him she found happy life with him impossible.

Meanwhile she remained at luxurious, heavily guarded Winfield mansion, in London's Regent's Park, and the count stayed at a fashionable West End hotel.

Norman Birkett, the count's lawyer, disclosed he "would have to put the count in the witness box to deal with matters which have been raised." He added, "The issue is one as to whether the countess did go in bodily fear," as the prosecution contended.

The count will also have to go through cross questioning from Countess Barbara's counsel, Sir Patrick Hastings, regarded as one of England's outstanding trial lawyers.

L. A. WOMAN SLAIN, HUSBAND SHOT BY LAWYER'S OFFICE

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Mrs. Edith Crane, 35, was found shot to death, and her 40-year-old husband, Jack Nelson Crane, dangerously wounded in the head with a .45 army automatic pistol today in a corridor outside a lawyer's office, where they had been discussing a divorce.

The shooting was on the fourth floor of the Chester Williams building. H. M. Bole, the lawyer, said the couple came to his office an hour earlier, quarreling bitterly, but left together apparently in better spirits.

Another lawyer, Morton Briskin, heard two shots and rushed into the hall. He said he saw Crane embracing his wife with one arm and holding a pistol in the other hand. Crane then raised the pistol again and shot himself twice, one of the bullets grazing Briskin, he said.

Crane, an oil driller, had lived for some time with a sister at Venice. Mrs. Crane came here from Wyoming five months ago.

Bole said Mrs. Crane had been trying to persuade her husband to file suit for divorce immediately because he was eligible under residence requirements and she was not.

WASHINGTON. (AP)—President Roosevelt heard today from Stewart McDonald, federal housing administrator, that the FHA would insure $1,000,000,000 of new building this year.

McDonald reported to Mr. Roosevelt this total would be more than double that for last year.

Carrying numerous charts and tables to give Mr. Roosevelt a picture of the trend in home construction, McDonald said he reported the FHA did a $96,000,000 business in the home mortgages during June, an increase of 74 per cent over the same month a year ago.

JOHN VANDER MEER Holds Rivals to One Hit

28,000 VIEW ANNUAL GAME

CROSBY FIELD, Cincinnati. (AP)—Brilliant pitching and timely hitting gave the National league All-Stars a 4 to 1 victory over their American league rivals in the sixth annual charity battle between the two circuits before 28,000 spectators here today.

In scoring their second victory in the brief history of the series, the Nationals upset expert opinion and their pitchers throttled a battering army that had promised to pepper base hits all over the Ohio valley.

The three National pitchers, Johnny Vander Meer, Bill Lee and Mace Brown, allowed the formidable American sluggers only seven hits and had them shut out until the last of the ninth, when hits by Joe Di Maggio and Joe Cronin gave the losers their only tally.

AMERICANS IN KOBE PERILED

Hundreds of Japanese Drowned by Flood; U.S. Citizens Flee

TOKYO, July 7 (Thursday). (AP)—Scores of American residents were imperiled early today by a flood roaring out of its surrounding hills into Kobe, principal port of western Japan, where the dead were estimated at between 400 and 480.

Frederick Taylor, native of Sacramento, Calif., at midnight gave the Associated Press a vivid telephoned picture of the flood, which had cut a tragic path through the heart of the city of 938,000.

"It's still raining and I am heading for higher ground before morning," said Taylor, long a resident of Kobe. "I will try to get out by launch tomorrow. The best information shows between 400 and 480 are dead, but so many buildings have been smashed flat that nobody can say for certain.

"We know five foreigners are dead. They are a Frenchman, a Russian, a German woman and two Portuguese children. I do not believe any Americans have been killed or injured.

"It has been raining for three days and the hills on all sides of Kobe have been slipping.

MOVING MOUNTAINS
"The slides seemed to advance like moving mountains right up to the residential districts. They came within a few feet of my place.

"You can hear low rumbling and trees crashing.

"There's a reservoir in the hills back of the city and some say it broke. I do not know about that. Anyway millions of tons of water must have been dammed in the hills by slides.

"Yesterday (Wednesday) morning about 9:30 a cloudburst hit us. About an hour later a regular Niagara came out of the hills. We heard an awful roar, but it was not much warning.

HOUSES SMASHED
"A solid wall of water about five or six feet high came down in fast very few in its path had time to escape. It smashed both foreign and Japanese houses like matchboxes. The sound of wood splintering and crashing could be heard easily amid the thunder of the water.

"The flood drove like a giant steamroller right through the middle of the residential district and was still going full force when it hit the business section.

"Where houses and buildings stood a day ago there is now a corridor about as wide as the Sacramento river. And there is a river going through.

POLICE CARRY WATER
"The worst problem is drinking water. The police are bringing water around in casks.

"They are doing a wonderful job in rescue work and maintaining order, treating foreigners with the same consideration as Japanese."

Kobe, Japan's premier port for trade with Asia and Europe, lies at the eastern end of the inland sea. It occupies a narrow shore-front and is almost surrounded by hills rising sharply behind it.

Skinny Skribbles

Around And About Town

With C. F. (Skinny) SKIRVIN

An authority reports that the Middle West Commission merchants say there is nothing wrong with California oranges. That being the case, there must be something wrong with the marketing system. The price proves an error some place, and the grower wants to find out where it is. Now, Mr. Grower, could it be that you are to blame? Are we producing too much fruit? And if so why ship so much? There's a lot I do not know about the orange business, but when a fellow is trying to make a living out of one "anarchical practice" by some governments. We have fine fruit for which we are getting a poor price.

And speaking about oranges. The California Orange Growers Stabilization committee has enlisted the cooperation of the largest retail dealers in a concerted drive to dispose of the fruit by November 1. A million dollars is being spent in advertising. If warm weather will add its influence to the advertising campaign it will help materially in the disposal of a crop now large enough to provide three dozen oranges to every man, woman and child in the United States.

July first was interest day in some of the local financial institutions, and those who had something coming all thought of it the same time. That is why tellers and accountants found a long line of customers in front of their respective desks and counters. I have a great interest in interest, but too much of it on the side which goes to the other fellow.

Don't worry. Oranges will be higher when they ship fewer of them. A surplus seldom brings a profit.

State Senator Harry Westover celebrated the Fourth of July at the beach home, where the family has been for a year to help the boy rid himself of a case of asthma, and with success. Asthma is an eccentric pest. One victim finds the sea breeze conducive to relief, another the desert and some the mountain tops. Just why these variations act so differently I do not know, nor do I intend to find out. Professional information comes under the legal heading of consultation, and I didn't get in on the stock market at the low point.

F. D. R. Expected to Urge Reorganization on Trip West

FOE OF BILL PREDICTS ITS ENACTMENT

WASHINGTON, (P)—President Roosevelt's assertion that the country wants—and will get—a government reorganization law indicated today he might point up the issue during his cross-country speaking tour.

The President told reporters that the executive branch of the government should be put on a business basis, that the people want it done, and that it is only a matter of working out details to accomplish it.

A new measure is expected to be presented to the 1939 congress, probably combining features of the bill passed by the senate last spring and the one shelved by the house after a hard-fought battle.

Senator Byrd (D., Va.), who opposed the administration's reorganization program, agreed today that some sort of a measure probably would be enacted next year.

"Everyone is in favor of government reorganization," he said. "The differences arise over methods."

Byrd and some of his colleagues had contended that the administration bill took powers from congress and gave them to the President.

They fought in vain for a provision that congress must ratify any consolidations of federal agencies.

Mr. Roosevelt conferred yesterday with members of the Brownlow committee, which originated the administration's reorganization program in 1937. Committee members said they merely had discussed the general problem.

The President told his press conference that many congressmen who voted to pigeonhole the reorganization bill had favored 90 per cent of its principles and opposed 10 per cent of its details.

The people, he declared, do not want to wait another 40 years for action.

Many who heard the President's comments thought they carried a clear hint that he would focus attention on the issue during his western trip, which starts tomorrow night.

Rio Grande River Wins; One Missing, One Safe

Raging rapids of the Rio Grande river near Cerro, N. M., wrecked the homemade boat in which E. R. Wakefield and A. S. Hunt, middle-aged Denver, Colo., men, attempted to ride the unnavigated canons through the rapids. Hunt saw his companion being swept downstream when their craft wrecked. Hunt escaped and crawled through the rattlesnake infested country to a sheep camp to report their misfortune.

'There's a Murder' Cry to Sheriff Over Phone, But it Turns Out to Be a Mistake

There's been a murder at the Talbert meat packing house. There's a man there to show you where the body is."

That message, relayed to the sheriff's office from Huntington Beach police, started officers rushing to the scene from four points at 8:30 o'clock last night.

Car 96, bearing Chief Criminal Deputy Merle Dean, Deputies Steve Duhart and G. F. McKelvey and Court Reporter W. J. White, screamed down the road from Santa Ana. Car 104, with Deputies William Trapp and Vern Mohn, rushed from La Habra. Car 99 came from Costa Mesa with Deputies Ed Hoffman and Ezra Stanley. Two Huntington Beach policemen rushed to the scene.

At Talbert they found an untidy Mexican.

"I made mistake," he announced. "I say murder; I mean fight."

"The investigation being completed," wrote McKelvey on his report, "Henry Eliso, 41, was brought to the county jail and booked for intoxication."

Mayor Shaw's Brother Out As Secretary, L. A. Report

LOS ANGELES, (P)—The Examiner said today that Joseph Shaw, storm center of Los Angeles politics since the Harry Raymond bombing, has resigned as secretary to his brother, Mayor Frank L. Shaw.

The resignation, to be announced shortly, is ascribed to ill health, the paper said.

A retired naval lieutenant, Shaw was appointed by his brother in 1933. When three police officers were tried recently for the attempted assassination of Vice Investigator Raymond, the prosecution charged that the mayor's secretary was a power behind the police spy squad.

Conviction of Earle E. Kynette and Roy J. Allen resulted in official disbanding of the squad, which had been accused of shadowing political foes of the city administration.

Seven former members were suspended by Police Chief James E. Davis today for refusal to answer grand jury questions about the Raymond case.

WINE FILTER SUIT OPENS

Trial of a $1126.30 suit against Mrs. L. A. Turner, proprietor of the Santa Ana Iron works, and her cross-complaint for $575 for a wine filter began today before Superior Judge Raymond McIntosh of Sierra county, sitting here for Superior Judge G. K. Sovell.

Plaintiff in the suit, originally filed in Los Angeles municipal court but transferred here, is Giovanni Monaci, proprietor of the Garvey winery at Rosemead.

He claims a filter built for him by the Santa Ana firm was faulty and damaged his wine. He is represented by the Los Angeles law firm of Keating and Krowch.

Mrs. Turner, represented by Charles D. Swanner, is suing for the price of the filter and denies it was faulty.

'Hungary's Hitler' Sentenced to Jail

BUDAPEST, (P)—Ferenc Szalasi, World war major who aspired to be "Hungary's Hitler," today was sent to prison for a three-year term for "incitement," the mild Hungarian term for illegal attempts to overthrow the government.

Three judges of the court of appeal hearing the Nazi leader's appeal from a lower court's sentence of 10 months affirmed his conviction and meted out the heavier punishment.

This was generally accepted as an indication that Nazis using illegal means would be dealt with sharply under the new government of Premier Bela Imredy.

L. A. Pickets Dress In Kiddies' Clothes

LOS ANGELES, (P)—Picketing today in front of the American Can company's plant looked like a grown-ups' "kid" party.

FLYING WHEN DRUNK DENIED

Charged with being Orange county's first violator of a 1929 drunk-flying law, Sidney DeForest Holland, 40, Santa Ana mechanic, pleaded not guilty today before Justice Kenneth Morrison.

Preliminary hearing for the aviator was set for July 18 at 9 a. m., and his $1000 bail was continued.

Holland was arrested by Santa Ana police Sunday afternoon when he landed a plane at the Martin airport. Several witnesses said the craft had been stunting over the city, and a doctor's examination pronounced Holland moderately intoxicated.

The charge carries a one-to-five-year penitentiary term on conviction. O. A. Jacobs represented Holland at today's arraignment.

PRAHA, Czechoslovakia, (P)—Special police squads were placed in Sokol delegations from Berlin and Vienna today to see that no harm came to the swastika banners they carried in the grand procession of the Sokol congress, which ended its six-day program today.

This was the first time the emblem of Nazi Germany had appeared publicly in Praha streets and authorities had appealed to citizens to show all flags the same respect. No untoward incident was reported.

NEW WELFARE CHIEF TAKES OVER DUTIES

Thomas P. Douglas, newly-appointed county welfare director, took over operation of the recently-unsettled today with the announced determination of running the county's biggest governmental institution on a businesslike basis.

Douglas said he was trying to get his feet on the ground today, having taken over his discharge after the four-day regime of Harry Edwards, veterans' welfare officer, as acting director.

The new director was appointed yesterday morning by a 3-2 vote of the board of supervisors on motion of Supervisor Steele Finley, supported by Chairman Willard Smith and Supervisor N. E. West. Supervisor John Mitchell, who named Edwards, and Supervisor Harry Riley dissented.

Edwards had been named on an acting basis after how had been fired as a result of his discharge of Mrs. Belle Spangler, assistant director, in which he alleged she had been insubordinate and had handled funds in a "highly irregular" manner.

Whether Mrs. Spangler will remain assistant director or not, Douglas said, he had not decided. He said he was working that problem out.

"Inventive activity during the first half of 1938 reached a new four-year high," Coe said. "For more than 80 years the patent office has served as a sort of barometer in registering the presence and the passing of economic depressions."

Among recent inventions were methods for pre-fabrication of building materials, methods of making plastics and artificial silks, permanent waving machines and manure devices, clothing and machinery for making clothing, improved automobile bodies and French streets, according to announcement by Rev. H. W. Ewell, pastor.

Strict Enforcement Against Smoking In U. S. Forests Announced

RANGERS MAKE 5 ARRESTS TO AVERT FIRES

Strict enforcement of laws against smoking in forest areas was announced by forest rangers, as five men faced misdemeanor charges in Orange justice court because they lighted cigarettes in Cleveland National forest.

Fire hazard in mountains and brush-covered country already has caused annual closing of the Cleveland forest; and rangers said they would be especially vigilant in arresting smokers in areas where carelessness might start costly forest fires.

Last year's fire record was outstanding for low loss, according to reports received by the department of supervisors. Strict enforcement this year of laws against smoking in wooded areas is designed to keep this year's record as good.

Facing arraignment in Orange justice court are Ross Howe, W. J. Woodward, C. A. Pettis, T. Maxham and Stewart Ashurst, named in complaints by rangers as having smoked in the Cleveland area over the July 4 holiday.

Will Help You With Your Clothing Problem. Write Her!

It is on their minds—and who can blame the potential sorority "bids" when the wise youngsters know just as well as I do that costumes can make or break them. The morals of the situation may be all wrong—but the facts are still the same.

One frantic mother happened to enclose the rushing schedule for one university which I am going to use today as a basis for comment. By the way—I wish some of you college girls from various spots would send me a few more dates. I'd like to use it in the column.

With approximately six luncheons, six or seven teas, and almost ten dinners, no 1938 college girl can expect to have a complete change for each occasion. Besides—she doesn't need it for two reasons. The dates are all at different places—and fashion-wise sophisticated out in life, always prefer a few smart things with just accessories and tricks working the miracles of seeming change.

Let's pretend you haven't any too much to spend—yet want to be a mighty smart looking just the same. Here would be my idea of a knock-out minimum. There can be three good-looking campus costumes. These will take care of second week's luncheons—and maybe some of the first week's. There will be a town-and-travel outfit which will do for even a tea as well as a luncheon or so. The latter might be colored wool suit. The sport frocks might include a well-cut one-piece wool dress of sport type, twin-sweater set with skirt and an extra jacket, skirt and blouses.

Then there will be a minimum of two swanky afternoon costumes or, better still, three. These will be dark dresses, all of them, subtly out and with daytime length skirts. Or, if the budget allows, a fur-trimmed afternoon suit works miracles in this trio. In all cases there will be at least three trick hats—colored jewelry—different gloves.

One evening dress should be dark, high-necked and with sleeves—and probably it will be the most wearable favorite. It can have changeable jewels—flowers—jackets—belts. Two more will be "in-between"—fuller of skirt—lighter of color, lower of neck. The fourth will be a gown affair and formal as one's heart desires.

SPORTS Roundup

—By EDDIE BRIETZ

NEW YORK. (AP)—The Giants and Yankees aren't accepting reservations for a subway World series, but Colgate football officials have shifted the Colgate game scheduled Oct. 8 from the Yankee stadium to Buffalo just in case.

The sports editor of the Nevada State Journal at Reno is named Ty Cobb and his contemporary on the Reno Evening Gazette answers to Joe Jackson. (P. S. This Joe wears shoes). Because Larry Gilbert, manager of the last-place New Orleans Pelicans in the Southern association, didn't get expected help from the Cleveland Indians, he may sell his star twirler, Russel Evans, to the Giants, who already have sent four players to New Orleans.

If this isn't some sort of record you can sue yours truly... In a game between Detroit and Philadelphia the other day, no less than five former Duke university stars were in the Athletics' lineup... They were Bill Werber, at third; Ace Parker, the well-known footballer, at second; Wayne Ambler, at short; Chubby Dean, pinch-hitter de luxe, and Pitcher Dave Smith.

Here's the way the Southwest conference football race shapes up in the summer books: Rice will be as strong as last year... Texas Christian again will have the best line in the league and is counted the No. 1 team to upset Rice... Texas A. and M. has a flock of nifty freshmen coming up... Southern Methodist figures to be tough, with one of its best fresh teams in history ready to go... Texas U. will have a stouter line and better-balanced backfield... Baylor lost too many stars by graduation... Arkansas can't be counted out, but how they're going to miss those tall ends!

Coaches to watch: Ray Hanson of Western Illinois State Teachers college... His baseball team won the "Little 19" title with 14 wins in 16 games and he piloted his basketballers to the title with 16 out of 20... The Dodgers haven't beat the Giants all season... How does that old Tony Galento look up there in the No. 1 spot for heavyweight challengers?

Paul Goetowski, sophomore tacker at Nebraska, is a registered nurse and works in the college infirmary during the off season... We still like the American leaguers today.

Three years ago—Helen Wills Moody, back in competition after two years' retirement, won seventh Wimbledon tennis championship, beating Helen Jacobs, 6-3, 3-6, 7-5, after trailing 2-7 in the last set.

Five years ago—American league All-Stars defeated National leaguers 4-2 before 50,000 at Chicago as Babe Ruth's home run featured game.

RECEIVERSHIP ASKED IN ROW OVER RANCH

While Sidney O. Pellew and Frank W. Mefferd still await outcome of their legal squabble over a $25,000 Orange county ranch, another superior court suit was filed yesterday for receivership of their property.

Plaintiff in the new suit was Rose Bronstine, Los Angeles, who owns a $20,402.26 judgment against the late Minnie M. Pellew, purchaser of the ranch. She contends Mrs. Pellew put the ranch in the name of her brother, Mefferd, to escape an execution of the old judgment.

The same question had been raised in the previous suit, brought by Mefferd against Pellew to quiet title of the ranch, with both of them claiming ownership. The new action named as defendants both Pellew, who is executor of his wife's estate, and Mefferd, asking receivership of all property of the late Mrs. Pellew to satisfy the old judgment.

Welfare Center To Meet Tomorrow

Santa Ana General Welfare center will meet in the Unitarian church, Eighth and Bush streets, at 7:30 p. m. tomorrow. C. L. Bell of South Pasadena, a General Welfare leader in the 12th congressional district, will deliver the address of the evening in support of the General Welfare Act.

Arrangements will also be made for members of the local center to attend a district meeting to be held at San Bernardino on Saturday, July 9. Harold P. Thoreson will address an afternoon meeting. Congressman Harry R. Sheppard will speak at an evening mass meeting at the city auditorium. Reservations are being made for a special bus to leave Santa Ana at noon for these meetings.

Material Storage On Lots Prohibited

Contractors and builders who store construction material and equipment on vacant lots in the city will be charged with creating a nuisance.

This additional stipulation to the nuisance ordinance was read for a second time last night at the council meeting and was adopted.

Career of Boy Preacher Started in Garden Grove

Charles E. Jaynes, jr., 8-year-old boy preacher who recently was pictured on the front page of The Journal marrying a young couple in Cleveland, Ohio, started his preaching career in nearby Garden Grove at the age of two and a half years.

Garden Grove residents were thrilled to hear him last night on Bob Ripley's "Believe It or Not" program, at which time his home address was given at Garden Grove, Cal. Both of Charles' parents are ministers, and his mother er was pastor of the Garden Grove Foursquare church when the boy started preaching. He has a brother still residing in that community and the family make frequent trips back here to their former home.

Charles was made a member of the clergy a year ago when the International Ministerial federation ordained him at the age of seven. When he grows up he wants to be a G-man, however, according to what he told Mr. Ripley last night.

NEW SCHOOL IN ORANGE WILL COST $64,000

ORANGE.—Plans for a $64,000 new building to replace the old center street grammar school structure are being studied. Superintendent C. I. Thomas announced.

Thomas said steps toward submitting an application to the Public Works administration for loan and grant are being considered. It is probable the application will be filed at an early date.

Securing of federal funds for the project would eliminate necessity of levying a five-cent tax for a building fund. Such tax would be necessary for about three years, on basis of the present assessed valuation of $8,500,000 for the school district.

The proposed building would be of one-story, modernistic design, Anderson said.

Two from Anaheim Are Booked in S. A.

Two men were booked in the county jail yesterday to serve sentences on drunk-driving charges from Anaheim city court.

They were Ralph Hickey, 36, WPA worker of 1029 West Third street, Santa Ana, to serve 75 days, and Elmo Stone, 30, Anaheim truck driver, to serve 50 days.

COUNTY ASKED TO JOIN BAN ON INDIGENTS

Request of the California Citizens' association asking Orange county to enter into the movement underway to exclude indigent transients from entering California will be referred to a chamber of commerce committee investigating such matters.

The committee, headed by C. H. Holmes, will report back to the chamber directorate at a future meeting.

The California Citizens' association, whose secretary is Thomas W. McManus, has its headquarters in Bakersfield. In a letter to the local chamber, McManus asserts that the indigent problem in this state is rapidly becoming a great health menace and is monthly enlarging the relief load here by as much as 50,000 persons. McManus states further that 19,000 citizens of Kern county have signed a petition, circulated by the Citizens' association, asking for legislation to exclude the transient who comes to California without money or means of supporting himself here.

FULLERTON TO VOTE ON HALL SITE THURSDAY

FULLERTON.—The city council voted last night to purchase an $11,000 tract of land adjacent to Amerigo park if voters approve the park for a city hall and jail site in a special election tomorrow. The council already has taken an option on the property.

Residents will ballot on a proposed amendment to an ordinance which prohibits use of the park property, which is located on West Commonwealth avenue, for erection of a city hall or other like buildings. The proposal to go on the ballot is to use the northerly 115 feet of the park grounds, now devoted to lawn, for the new structure.

If voters approve the measure, the additional land will be purchased. It lies directly west and adjacent to the park grounds and comprises about two and one-quarter acres.

Fullerton's 24 voting precincts have been consolidated into six, and polls will be open from 7 a. m. to 7 p. m., City Clerk Fred Hezmalmbach said.

Fire Chief Roy Davis reported a record year in fire control for his department, with only a 10-cent per capita loss for the year. Total losses were $1156, with property endangered valued at $842,775, Davis said. The council voted to name Laurence Jones acting chief, to hold the position until Davis recovers from a serious illness.

Girls Return From Happy Camping Trip

Twenty-two happy Orange county Girl Scouts returned to their homes late yesterday after two joyous weeks spent at Camp Ro-Ki-Li in the mountains, all-maxed by a big Fourth of July celebration. Since firework displays were prohibited, they planned an old-fashioned holiday, including a costume parade, a barbecue dinner, a nail-driving contest, cracker-eating races, and a band concert.

Proceeds from an auction, sale of lemonade, and fines for law infractions were given to the "Juliette Low Fund" which sends Girl Scouts to an international camp every year.

Events of the exciting day were planned under the supervision of Miss Margaret Rutan, marshal; Irene Noble, sheriff; Jean Hunter, parade marshal; Florence Fainberg, band; Ruanne Neighbour, auction; Beverly Russell and Jean McCaugh, races; Lucille Mendenhall, lemonade stand; Barbara Young, original hat contest; Dorothy Brush, water fight; Duane Alcock, bank; Corrine Hill, Milled Lockett, and Connie Muraine, prizes.

Entertainment at campfire in the evening was provided by the dramatics group who presented "The Reformed Fourth." The cast included Ruth Pettingill, Dorothy Brush, Ruanne Neighbour, Lucille Mendenhall, Florence Mendenhall, Jean Hunter, and Barbara Young, with Miss Jane Crawford directing.

Accompanying the girls as staff members for the pleasurable fortnight of supervised outdoor life were Mrs. Golden Weston, Mrs. R. C. Harris, and the Misses Martha Tuthill, Marian Hawk, Violet Holter, Eugene Carr, Hazel Burge, and Jane Crawford.

The campers included the Misses Dorothy Brush, Margaret Rutan, Ruth Jane Pettingill, Mildred Lockett, Jean McCaugh, Betty McCaugh, Barbara Young, Duane Alcock, Corrine Hill, Janice Campbell, Connie Muraine, Ruanne Neighbour, Florence Fainberg, Norene Smith, Betty Hunter, Helen McDermott, Beverly Russell, Marjorie Crump, Jeanne Young, Dorcas Jacobsen, Lucille Mendenhall, and Jean Hunter.

B. And P. W. Conclave Is Slated

Santa Ana Business and Professional Women are taking an active part this week in preparations for the forthcoming southern district B. and P. W. conclave July 17 at Laguna Beach, at which Orange county clubs will be hostess. Particular interest is felt on the part of the local club because of the fact that one of its number, Miss Dorothy Decker, is holder of the office of district president.

The conclave will commence with a board meeting at 10 a. m. followed by a presentation of the year's program with regard to public affairs, health, education and research. No definite location for the meeting has yet been set, since it depends on the number attending. Delegates are to be first to Rankin's drug store in Laguna, and there will be told the meeting place. Reservations are now being taken by Miss Helen Gallagher and must be in by July 12.

At 12:30 p. m. Miss Decker will present highlights of the recent regional conference at the Grand canyon which she attended, and at 1 p. m. will be held the luncheon at which Natalie Bucknall will be featured speaker on "My Business—Research in the Movies." Plans for the convention were completed at a recent meeting of the county council, at which Miss Mary Campbell, new county president, presided. Attending from Santa Ana were Miss Ethel Coffman, acting president; Miss Decker, Miss Genevieve Humiston and Mrs. Mabel Cole.

DOUBLE RITES OCCUR AT WEDDING CHAPEL

Of double interest was a wedding ceremony performed last night at the Santa Ana Wedding chapel, for the Rev. Earl Bloss pronounced vows for two couples, Miss Helen Rogers of Garden Grove and Frank Kirkpatrick of Newport Beach, and Miss Mary V. Howell of Anaheim and Blaine McFarland of Newport Beach.

Each couple was attended by a maid of honor and a best man. Officiating for Mr. and Mrs. Kirkpatrick were Miss Cora Kinzer of Santa Ana and Roy Messick of Newport Beach, while standing up with Mr. and Mrs. McFarland were Miss Helen Clow of Anaheim and R. Warren Jackson of Anaheim.

The brides were dressed alike as to style and luggage accessories, although Mrs. McFarland's sheer frock was of aquamarine and Mrs. Kirkpatrick's was of bridal white. Both wore gaudia cor-sages.

After their honeymoons, the couples will reside in Newport Beach, the McFarlands at 115 Thirtieth street and the Kirkpatricks at 123 Thirtieth street.

Dirndls For The Dunes

AMERICA has the dirndl fever this year. You see some evidence of it here in a beach coat of blue and white cotton printed in Scandinavian pattern. It's ready to step out on the sands with a big white straw hat and cork soled sandals.

Tid-Bits

By DR. MARY E. WRIGHT

At a late function vivacious Margaret Hall was speaking of a luncheon that she and her husband Edward had attended on a recent Sunday, at which Victor McLaglen and his interesting English wife were hosts at their estate near La Canada.

She said that the McLaglen son Andrew was the tallest man she had ever seen! The affair was attended by about 200 people, among them the celebrated Mrs. John Hay Whitney who came to California bringing her hunters recently. Mrs. Hall also spoke of the estate's beautiful jumping course—and in fact, the whole conversation was of horses, and not movies nor actors, as one might suppose.

I met Mrs. W. D. Ranney wearing such a pretty printed silk jersey in green, red, and black. It is uncrushable and therefore was invaluable to her on her recent holiday trip with Mrs. J. E. Liebig and their two husbands. She told me it took quite a bit of persuasion to make her don its matching turban and thus confine her hair, however. Mrs. Liebig wore a "witches" hat with a gay bandana peak which was so fetching according to Mrs. Ranney that she always fell behind when walking so that the view would not be obstructed! This was their particular merriment on the trip, which featured so many other enjoyable moments, particularly the gorgeous wild flowers all through the northwest—genesta, rhododendrons, azaleas, and cultivated Canterbury bells and delphiniums more beautiful than any they had ever seen before.

THREE MEMBERS ARE ADDED TO KINGS' GUARD

Induction of three new members into the rapidly growing Kings' Guard division of the Methodist church, a recently organized group for young people, occurred yesterday with Mrs. C. H. Jeffrey, leader, officiating. New members include Beverly Jean Snow, Mary Jean Pearson and Douglas Siden.

At the same time the group made plans to entertain their mothers and auxiliary women at a tea Aug. 15, and to hold its next regular meeting July 18.

Sewing on stuffed dolls to be sent Miss Viola Weight, missionary in Montevideo, Uruguay, occupied the afternoon, climaxed by refreshments served from a table decorated in patriotic fashion by Mrs. C. E. Lawrence, president of the Foreign Missionary society.

Moslem life was the story-hour topic, over which Miss Mary Lamb presided, and Miss Laura Margaret Howland presided over the business session.

Miss Doris Marie Barton conducted the stewardship candle-lighting ritual, and Bobbie Fox, as lighting ritual, and Bobbie Fox, as program chairman, introduced Flora Margaret Howland, who presented several piano solos.

Three special guests were present during the day, Mrs. Richard Howland, Mrs. Jack Snow and Mrs. Charles Fox.

CLUB ENJOYS EVENING AT BEACH HOME

Enjoying meetings each fortnight through the summer, the Tuesday Evening Bridge club was entertained last night in the attractive Huntington Beach home of Mrs. Howard Anderson.

The club hosts a patriotic motif in her decorations, with colorful little gumdrops bearing jaunty miniature flags at each place, and with red, white and blue characterizing the dessert course.

High score prizes were presented at the close of the evening to Mrs. George Horton and Mrs. Ralph Adams. Members present were Mrs. Horton, Mrs. Adams, Mrs. Charles Kendall, Jr., Mrs. Edward Sugden, Mrs. Francis Edmunds, Mrs. Bolton Jones, Mrs. Harold Vieira and the hostess.

John Finley Williamson, founder and director of the famous Westminster choir, Dr. Williamson, presented rather new to Southern California music lovers, is rated as one of the outstanding choral conductors in the world today, and the program, because of his unusual interpretations promises to be a high light among musical events of the summer.

The public is cordially invited to attend this broadcasting program at Occidental college. The full program is to begin at 3 o'clock. A portion of it will be sent over the air.

LOCAL CHOIR WINS HIGH HONOR

The Cathedral choir of the First Presbyterian church of Santa Ana, directed by Whitford L. Hall, has been signally honored by an invitation to participate in a nationwide N. E. C. broadcast at 3:30 p. m. over station KECA.

The Cathedral choir is one of four choirs selected from Southern California churches to participate in this mass program. Other choirs selected are from Highland Park Presbyterian church with Howard Swann as director, Immanuel Presbyterian church of Los Angeles with Clarence Maderas as director, and the First Congregational church of Long Beach with Raymond Moreman, directing.

The concert, which will originate in the Hillside theater at Occidental college, will be directed by with deep blue large flowers on black and a matching hat of blue lace and pleated lisse, at a party—and the other, on the street, was Mrs. Joe Cornelius in a cute sport suit of dusty rose plaided with tulle. Grown in the jacket, with a turned-down brown hat of her pliant face with its reticent nose, she looked most charming.

A young woman neighbor of Mrs. Chad D. Brown of Red Hill avenue was at her home recently and insisted on taking a snapshot of the latter working on her five-foot geranium hedge that is a mass of brilliant red blooms. Mrs. Brown couldn't understand why she wanted a picture of anything so ordinary as geraniums, but the neighbor said she wanted to prove to people back east that in California geraniums didn't have to be grown in pots!

At the lovely Flag-Chandler party lately Kay Durby, daughter of Mrs. Chandler, wore the most exquisite gown I've seen this season of so many beautiful gowns! Perhaps it was just that it enhanced Kay's bristled coloring so beautifully—but it was of periwinkle shadow lace, with a bouffant skirt effected by bands of horsehair braid of the same color, stitched at six or eight inch intervals. It had a wisp of a waist with short sleeves, and a note of color given by a narrow cerise belt with long ends.

A close rival to her, however, was darling Linda Barker, who appeared in a French yellow gown with matching socks. She has a perfectly lovely manner when meeting adults that can't help but rouse comment.

The writer is a flit again—after just a few weeks of "rooming" it became too confining—so now I can be found in a comfortable apartment at 117 East Tenth street.

MARY STODDARD

Selfish Mother Has Ruined Chance at Happiness for Children

What many of us need to do more than anything else in this world is to broaden our viewpoint. We must escape out of our petty, hidebound shells to see beyond the back door stoop and the lilac tree which blooms there. When we level our gaze at the far horizon, bathed in red and gold, which envelopes the wide world, we can look back to the lilac bush and appreciate the fragrance of its rain-drenched, fragrant blooms.

Perhaps we were so absorbed in the petty trials and tribulations of the day that we didn't even notice the beauty of the little tree right 'neath our noses!

That's just the way I felt when I read the following letter from a daughter.

Dear Miss Stoddard: I am so tired of hearing mothers say, "Well, I brought you into this world and suffered in doing so!" Women seem to hold themselves up as martyrs because of this, and use it as a club over the heads of their children as long as they live.

That's all I've heard all my life. We kids had enough to eat and a place to sleep, but beyond that—bah!

We were told that if we wanted an education we could get it later in life, though our parents were financially able to give all four of us a college education.

Some of us were only allowed to finish grammar school because the law said we must.

An education and polish, we have had to give ourselves, and yet, we still hear, "Oh, how I've suffered!"

It isn't what children owe the parents, it's vice versa, and no child of mine will be told "I did this and that for you." Parents owe their children a start in life, and its the early years in a child's life that makes a lasting impression.

There are naturally some ungrateful children, but if a parent has done his best, there is no regret.

There never was, at any time, any companionship in our home. We could not confide in our parents, thus we turned to outsiders and gradually there came a breach in the family circle, and grows wider as years pass.

My mother is now a widow, 58 years old, financially independent, in good health, still she complains continually about everything. Scandal is her food. Her immediate circle of friends consist of half a dozen like herself, who complain of imaginary illness and take delight in openly discussing dry sequences and the like. She finishes the day off by reading the Bible. "It means so much to her."

We have tried to reason with her, but her arrogant attitude that "if you don't like it, keep away from home," makes it impossible to cope with her.

HEARTY TO MARY
We've all been told a 100 times we've been disinherited. Well, that just suits me fine.

I'm 31 years old and the youngest child. I hesitate to get married because my mother has dislikd all the other "in-laws" to the extent they don't come near the house. According to her belief, no one but she is perfect, although uneducated herself, she tries to put up a big front. Her money carries her through or at least she thinks it does.

I am afraid to bring company home for fear she has had one of her so-called nervous spells and she'll insist that I am plenty fed up on it all and think it's time to take things in my own hands, and move out!

I am making $110 a month. She does not need any support and I am capable of making some man a good wife, I think.

Do your readers think I'm unfair for wanting the remaining years of my life to be happy ones, without any maternal interference?

Am I not old enough to have my own ideas about what I want in life? We've been good children, sometimes, I wish we hadn't—three girls and a boy all feel the same way about it.

I neither smoke nor drink and have been to one dance in three years. And yet—"Oh, what I suffered to bring you into this world! Nuts! Thanks for listenin'."

EUREKA. That's that and I'll bet you feel like a new woman already for having "gotten it off your chest," don't you?

You speak of not having had a college education, but admit that you got your own education and polish. The sort of education gained through experience and effort can never be taken away from you, while you might lose a college degree in a strange city and not be able to prove that you were versed in a higher education.

The polish you have put on your personality is the real article and cannot be rubbed off like veneer nor will it tarnish like the kind bought with dollars and cents!

All in all, I think you are a fortunate young woman. In fact, I know you are, but perhaps you won't fully appreciate it until later on. My parents did not pay my way through high school and college because they could not afford to. I worked my way through school and even to this day I have many essays of my own writing, worth while books and people, although it's been some 28 years since I last sat in a schoolroom. I am neither boasting nor day-dreaming when I say that if I had my life to live over again I should prefer to gain my education in the manner I was forced to because of no finances.

Yes, I think you should leave home and live your life to suit yourself. Perhaps then and then only you will realize that the reason you and your sisters and brother are good citizens is be-

IRVINE NINE IS ROUTED; ANAHEIM'S CLUB UPSET

NATIONAL NIGHTBALL LEAGUE

Table with 3 columns: Team, W, L, Pct. Rows include Huntington Beach, San Bernardino, Anaheim, Santa Ana, Orange, Brea, Irvine, and Whittier.

Results Last Night: Santa Ana, 21; Irvine, 3. Orange, 2; Brea, 1. Huntington Beach, 16; Whittier, 1. San Bernardino, 3; Anaheim, 1.

Games Friday Night: Whittier at Santa Ana. Irvine at Huntington Beach. San Bernardino at Brea. Orange at Anaheim.

Flashing a 20-hit attack that resulted in a 21-3 slaughter of Irvine for a new scoring record last night, Manager "Doc" Smith's Santa Ana Stars moved within a game of third place in the National Nightball league today.

The old-fashioned rout, which really meant something to the local fans because Anaheim, playing at San Bernardino, was upset 3-1 in a game that joined the Valencia's third-place hold in the eight-team circuit.

Huntington Beach's Oilers, on one of their customary sprees, clubbed Whittier's cellar occupants, 16-1, and Orange snapped a "home field" jinx by outlasting Brea, 2-1.

It was a ball game out at Irvine until a frantic fifth in which the Stars landed only three men of batting around TWICE to score 11 runs on eight solid hits and a flock of Irvine miscues. They ignited the fireworks again in the eighth, climbing on Ira DeBusk, who had relieved Ray Hodgson in the fifth, for eight hits and eight runs.

Highlights of the rout was Ben (Bomo) Koral's scorching home run down the third-base line with two aboard in the fifth; Joe Koral's three for six; Ben Richardson's three for five; and Tommy Young's three for five during the 20-hit assault. In justice to Irvine, neither Hodgson nor DeBusk were in the best of condition, as clearly indicated by the score.

Ernie Lester, giant Frenchman, pitched the last two innings. After the fifth, the Stars merely clown, some of them turning to the other side of the plate to experiment. The last three innings perhaps set a record for dull entertainment, more than half of the fans leaving because of the cool weather.

Stan Jacobsmeyer limited Irvine's sluggers to seven hits, and held the dangerous Hayes, Merle and Ray, hitless. . . . Whittier's nine plays Santa Ana at the Municipal bowl Friday night.

Table with 3 columns: Team, W, L, Pct. Rows include Denney, Wiener, Richardson, Koral, B. Koral, Young, Jacobsmeyer, Lacy, Smith, and Totals.

Table with 3 columns: Team, W, L, Pct. Rows include Wetzel, Burns, Hodgson, H. Sears, M. Hapes, Salisbury, R. Hapes, Ahern, Cook, Staples, Larier, DeBusk, and Totals.

Score by Innings: Santa Ana, 001 011 090-21. Irvine, 000 200 001-3.

Home run—B. Koral. Three-base hit—Cook. Bases on balls—Off Hodgson, 2; off DeBusk, 3; off Jacobsmeyer, 4. Struck out—By Hodgson, 4; by DeBusk, 5; by Jacobsmeyer, 10. Hits—Off Hodgson, 11; off DeBusk, 9; off Jacobsmeyer in 4-2-3 innings; 7 off Jacobsmeyer in 9 innings.

ORANGE SNAPS JINX TO BEAT BREA, 2-1. Breaking a mark which had stood for eight home stands, Orange's Cubs finally won a National Nightball league game in their own park last night.

While Jack Hagan scattered seven hits and struck out 13 batters, the Cubs defeated Brea's Red Lions, 2-1, with a one-run rally in the seventh inning.

After Rod Ballard had tied up the ball game with a home run into leftfield with two away in the sixth, Orange worked Walt Gunther across the plate on Roy Hahn's single to right after two were out. Three singled by Johnson, Harker and Walter Bath got Brea its run in the first of the sixth.

Table with 3 columns: Team, W, L, Pct. Rows include Johnson, R. Bath, Harker, W. Bath, Hale, Thompson, Snell, Lounsbury, Matigry, and Totals.

OLIVERS CLUB WHITTIER NINE BY 16-1 SCORE. In an orgy of base hits and runs, Huntington Beach broke loose for runs in wholesale lots in five of the nine innings to wallop Whittier's All Stars, 16-1, at Whittier last night.

After Whittier had gone out in front temporarily in the first the Oilers closed in on Wayne Smiley, new Whittier hurler, for five runs in the second, two in the fourth, one in the sixth, two in the seventh and six more in the ninth. Manager Joe Rodgers' bombers boomed out 18 hits while Ven-

Americans 8-5 Choice For Fifth Victory

Could Joe Louis Beat Dempsey, Corbett, Fitz? Those Champions Might Have Troubled Him

Baer, Farr, Galento, Barlund Chief Rivals—Max Likely Next Foe

By DILLON GRAHAM AP Feature Service Writer

NEW YORK.—We were sitting around Mike Jacobs' stuffy little smoke-filled press room at the Hippodrome the other day figuring out Joe Louis' future for him and comparing the tan-skinned heavyweight king with the champions of other years.

"There are only four guys you could match him with now—Max Baer, Gunnar Barlund, Tommy Farr and Tony Galento," someone said.

"And he'd lick 'em all, easy," another replied.

"The guy that'll beat Joe is still playing marbles somewhere and doesn't know a left hook from a three-base hit."

"Baer might have an outside chance if the big bum would only fight him," ventured one of the experts.

"Well, to hear him talk, you'd think he meant to murder Louis. FOR SON, BUDDY AND DAD."

"He says he's got plenty of incentive this time. First, he popped off he was going to whip Louis so that new baby of his would be proud of him. Then after Buddy Baer got beaten, Max huffed and puffed around that he'd win to restore the good Baer name."

"Now he's got a new one, too. Says he gave his father a deathbed promise that he'd whip the negro."

"That's just Baer talking to keep himself from running away, fast. He'll be scared stiff, once he sees that Louis stalking him, just like he was before. Only Louis won't need a heater this time," someone answered.

"Yeah, and if Louis works on him like he did Schmeling they'll take no chances on throwing in a little towel, they'll toss in a sheet to stop it."

"Max was the ferocious slugger in there against Farr, but remember that Baer knew Tommy couldn't punch hard enough to hurt him. He could afford to be brave. He knows Louis kicks like a mule with both hands and I'd almost be willing to bet that Baer never steps into the same ring with Joe," one writer remarked.

A bright-faced little chap walked in and immediately started bellowing.

FARR'S THE GUY. "The guy that ought to fight Louis is Tommy Farr. Isn't he the only big-time fighter who went the distance with Joe? And didn't he get in there and mix it with him? He came pretty darn close to whipping him. Yeah, forget this talk about Baer. Tommy Farr is the guy, and I've told Jacobs so," said fast-talking Joe Gould, Tommy's manager. Gould managed Heavyweight Champion J. Braddock.

Gould's outburst only served to set off another pilot, Gunnar Barlund's manager.

"The match they should make now is Barlund-Baer. He'd whip Baer."

"I'm not saying Barlund would beat Louis. I don't know if anyone can. But Barlund won't run and he won't turn his back. He'll fight him. He's got it up here," he said, pointing to his heart.

"Louis is the first champion we've had who carried a knock-out punch in both hands. He's got the greatest left jab in history. He can almost knock you out with that jab," someone said.

"Louis and Jim Jeffries are the only champions who've beaten those who held the title before them. Jeffries whipped Fitzsimmons and then beat Corbett. But Louis, he's beaten each of the five preceding titleholders. Knocked 'em kicking, Sharkey, Baer, Carnera, Braddock and Schmeling."

"Yeah, and if he had them around now, he could have whipped all the rest of them."

"The Dempsey of Toledo might have beaten him." Someone offered.

"Gosh, that would have been a fight."

"I think the fellow who landed first would have won that one. And Louis is a straighter puncher. Dempsey's best was a left hook."

GREATEST FINISHER. "Tunney was a master boxer, but he didn't have the knockout punch to beat Louis. Dempsey, way past his peak, sent Tunney to the floor. Louis would have beaten him. That Louis is the greatest finisher we've ever had. He really goes to town when he's got you in trouble."

"Louis would have whipped Willard or Johnson. It took Johnson 15 rounds to beat Jeffries, after Jeff had been out of the ring five years."

"Jeffries was a big, strong fellow with a punch but Joe hits faster than Jeff did. He'd probably have knocked him out. He'd have beaten Sullivan, too."

"Fitzsimmons and Corbett would have had the best chances. Fitz probably would have come closer to beating Louis than Corbett. He had a better punch. But that clever-boxing Corbett would have been hard to catch in 15 rounds."

And so the bag-punching continued, round after round. . . .

Eltiste's International Trucks and the Elks, first-half champions, got off to flying starts in the second half chase for the Santa Ana City league pennant last night.

Victims of the two colorful clubs, which are favored to fight it out, all the way for the title, were Alliance Mutual Life Insurance and Montgomery Ward's defending champions. Alliance found its favorite "fall" team not so easy as Botts and Ellwyn (Fuzzy) Errington held Whittier to five scattered hits.

ANAHEIM NINE SINKS WITH 3-1 DEFEAT. Dropping Anaheim to within a game of the flying Santa Ana Stars, who have been shooting for Anaheim's third place position since the start, San Bernardino's Ponies came from behind to take a 3-1 decision from the Valencia's at Colton last night.

Anaheim scored its run in the second on Fritz Gunther's double and Joe Cornelli's single. San Bernardino evened it up in the third on Zickrath's home run and then in the same frame Bob (Lefty) Fowler singled an infield out and two passed balls scored him. Burgess singled in the seventh and a sacrifice, the pitcher's error on Fowler's hit, brought in the other run.

BASEBALL TODAY

Table with 3 columns: Team, W, L, Pct. Rows include Sacramento, Los Angeles, San Francisco, San Diego, Seattle, Portland, Hollywood, and Oakland.

The weak-hitting Sacramento Solons outthit the hardest hitting club in the circuit to increase their leadership in the Pacific Coast Baseball league today to two and a half games.

The Senators, who trail every other club in batting averages, collected 11 hits to 9 for the San Francisco Seals to win 6 to 1 last night. Third Baseman Johnny Cergez set the pace with a homer and a two-bagger. He scored three runs and helped bait the Seals ace hurler, San Sam Gibson, off the mound.

All other clubs were idle. Los Angeles, which out the Sacramento lead from seven games to two last week, opens tonight at Oakland and Portland plays at Hollywood. Seattle will open at San Diego with a doubleheader.

NATIONALS STRIVE TO SNAP FOUR-GAME 'JINX'

(Results of All-Star Game on Page 1)

CINCINNATI. (AP)—The heroes of 1001 homers, the elite of the baseball world as of the current year, clash on Crosley field here today in the sixth annual All-Star game between the American and National leagues.

They come together with Senior Lefty Gomez of the New York Yankees smoking there across for the American leaguers, and his opponent, the sensational young Johnny Vander Meer of Cincinnati's own Reds.

It promised a hot contest in perfect baseball weather. The American leaguers, with four victories in five previous slugout encounters, were pronounced favorites at 8-to-5 to trim their inter-league rivals again. The Nationals, their ears still burning from a magazine article this spring that classified them as minor-leaguers, were pretty grim about the whole business.

There wasn't any doubt about the crowd. The home-like little field was certain to be packed-jammed to the utmost of its 28,000 capacity, with the last 2000 standing in the aisles. There have been applications for a total of 142,000 seats, which gives an idea of the tremendous appeal to today's baseball fan.

Many residents of Cincinnati swing a bat since the ill-fated "Black Sox" series of 1919. Terry's line-up is the obvious one, including as it does the leading sluggers of the National league. McCarthy crossed up the experts somewhat by appointing Mike Kreevich of the Chicago White Sox, a comparatively weak hitter, to start in left field, when he might have used either Roger Cramer of Boston or Bob Johnson of the Athletics, both superior hitters, in the position.

Even with Kreevich taking his cut at the top of the batting order, however, the American leaguers had their customary bulge in the hitting department.

Here is how they will line up at the outset today, with the individual batting averages:

Table with 3 columns: Team, Player, Avg. Rows include Kreevich, Gehring, Averill, Fox, DiMaggio, Dickey, Cronin, Lewis, Gomez, Hack, Hendon, Goodman, Medwick, Ott, Lombardi, McCormick, Duracher, and Vander Meer.

Young's Market, which defeated Columbia Pictures last week, is in a tie for first place in the Major Girls' Softball league, with the Lionettes back in third place.

Lois Terry, who has been out with a tonsil operation, may be set for tomorrow night. Otherwise, Bess Johnson will handle the pitching assignment.

INGLEWOOD. (AP)—Racing interest at Hollywood Park hit an upturn today with the prospective arrival of Seabiscuit as an entry in the $50,000 Gold Cup handicap July 16.

The 'Biscuit, a favorite of California fans, is expected to reach here Friday after a disappointing Eastern campaign.

Several offers to buy Dauber, William DuPont, Jr., Preakness winner, were reported, but all under $50,000, the asking price. If Dauber is not sold by tomorrow, he will be shipped to Wilmington, Del.

DOTS AND DASHES, ONE OR TWO FLASHES ON COUNTRY SPORTS FRONT

Wuxtra! Here's a real Walter Winchell for you! Bob (Lefty) Fowler's girl friend is Venn Botts' sister. Furthermore, after the recent 5-5 shut-out Fowler of San Bernardino captured from Botts of Huntington Beach, Bob accompanied Venn and wife, Venn's sisters and parents to the Botts' beach home for a little outing. In the shuffle around for beds, Bob and Venn slept in the same ones.

The Eastern J. C. conference of which Santa Ana is a member gained prominence last week-end when Clyde Jeffrey and Bryant Allen, speedsters who have raced at Poly field, won National Junior A. A. U. sprints championships at Buffalo, N. Y.

An eastern critic says Walter Hagen, internationally known golfer, solved Hank Greenberg's batting slump with the Detroit Tigers. Hagen was watching Greenberg bat and made the suggestion to Manager Mickey Cochran that Hank was standing too stiff and straight, not leaning into the ball, not snapping his bat through or breaking his wrists. Mickey passed on all of this good, sound golf advice, and Greenberg is driving in runs all over the lot.

Nightball fans are still chuckling over two decisions Arch Hawkins called as plate umpire in the recent Santa Ana-Brea game at Brea. . . . Rudy Montgomery, Lions' pitcher, was at bat, and took a healthy swing at one of Stan Jacobsmeyer's fast ones. It wasn't a foul tip, but obviously a foul strike. Apparently "looking out the window," Hawkins yelled, "Ball one!" and his decision held up the game several minutes while Manager "Doc" Smith and his lads swarmed around the arbiter. . . .

"I think you have something there, Haven!"

"I've always been under the impression that most of the people who frequent race tracks go for the ponies only in a betting way, don't care whether the race is for 50 cents or $400."

"I think I'm still right and that the race promoters, at either Hollywood park or Suffolk Downs, could have entered almost any two horses, called 'em Dauber and Lawrin, or Seabiscuit and War Admiral, and few lining the rails would have known the difference. All that would be necessary to complete the trickery would be to announce a phoney time and most of the patrons would go home satisfied that they had seen the "race of the century" or what ever the turf special had been billed.

"The bettors at Hollywood park, who availed themselves of the opportunity to make 10 cents on the dollar by buying tickets on Lawrin, have been called unfortunates by the Los Angeles writers.

"Perhaps it was taking an unfair advantage of the race promoters but racing has never been a business one would call sporting. At least I never heard of a nag, the price of cab or streetcar fare home."

TRACTORS AND EQUIPMENT ARE RENTED FOR ANY LENGTH OF TIME

More tractors are used more hours per capita in Orange county than in any other similar area in the United States! This is the statement made yesterday by N. R. and C. R. Post, of Post Bros. Tractor Rental Service, Bolsa. According to them, local agriculturists are among the most progressive in the nation and realize that it is cheaper to rent a tractor than to feed horses all year.

Jasper Farney Is Pioneer Builder

During the last decade and a half many new commercial, residential, industrial and civic structures have risen to mark the continued progress of prosperous Orange county, and Jasper Farney, pioneer contractor and builder of 313 Bush street, Santa Ana, has had a large share in the erection of these new buildings. During the last year alone he has built many new apartment buildings to house the ever-increasing horde of easterners seeking the advantages of Orange county's matchless climate and soil. And many of the finest homes of the city bear the signs of his building genius.

Now that the new FHA program has been approved, Mr. Farney urges every family which desires a home of their own to take advantage of the extra-liberal terms offered prospective home owners by the administration. Here is the chance of a lifetime for the young couple to obtain that honeymoon "home of dreams" without burdening themselves beyond their ability to pay without sacrifice, Mr. Farney pointed out.

Complete plans for residences of all sizes, types and prices are available at the Farney office. There is no charge for consultation, and Mr. Farney said he will be glad to explain the details of the new FHA plan. The great percentage of money loaned, the low interest rate and the long length of time for repayment now make it possible for anyone of good character to own their own home, regardless of the size of the family income, he explained.

Speedboat Pilots To Race at L. B.

LONG BEACH. (AP)—Half a hundred California speedboat pilots will contest on Marine stadium here Sunday afternoon in their annual summer regatta.
Commodore Jack Taylor announced today the meet will be a new-type "turning buoy" competition rather than a test of straight-away speed.
Entrants include John Kovacevich of Fresno and Forest Lundy of San Diego.

WHAT'S WHAT 'BOUT TRAFFIC

By CHIEF E. RAYMOND CATO
California Highway Patrol

Traffic questions should be sent to Chief Cato, at Sacramento. Answers will appear in this paper at an early date.

Q.—A neighbor registered his car in January and received his 1938 plates. Yesterday his license plates were taken up by an officer, who said this party had failed to answer a traffic citation in court. Is that true? G. W.

A.—Yes, Section 163 of the Vehicle Code so provides. Renewal is prohibited when a court advises this department of any person who has for 15 or more days wilfully violated his written promise to appear, given upon an arrest for any violation of the Vehicle Code. The restriction applies until the court removes it by filing a certificate with the department to the effect that the case has been cleared.

Q.—I bought an old car to use as a light delivery for my new business, but find I need a stronger motor. Is there much trouble in doing this, in so far as the registration, etc., is concerned? H. L.

A.—No, this is a very simple procedure, and any traffic officer or department of motor vehicles registration clerk will assist you. Q.—Recently I visited San Diego and having gone by train, had no auto. I went to a "rent car" concern, but they refused to let me have a car because I had left my operator license at home. I am a business man and have driven cars for 15 years. Have I any recourse? H. T. O.

A.—Section 336 of the Vehicle Code states: "No person shall rent a motor vehicle to any other person unless the person to whom rented is then duly licensed."

Q.—I have a light trailer coach which is used only on week-ends. Does it require brakes? Mrs. H. C. A.—If it weighs 1500 pounds or more equipped for the road, exclusive of passengers, it must have brakes.

Q.—I see many signs on garages, etc., reading, "Official Headlight Station, State of California." Does that mean that the state operates such places? E. M. S.

A.—Such signs mean that the state has inspected and approved such stations as to necessity and equipment, as well as examined the mechanics as to their knowl-

Many Uses For Sandblasting

Special equipment and a highly skilled personnel are required for sandblasting, according to Glen and Leonard Warner of the Orange County Sandblasting Co., the only firm of its kind in Orange county. This company, which is located at 721 Fruit street, cleans everything from buildings to agricultural equipment.

Sandblasting being the only method by which stone, metal or glass can be restored to its original pristine state, the company finds its services much in demand. If a building begins to appear smudged and passe, the owners call the Warners for a beauty treatment. If autos, trucks, tractors, etc., need scabby paint removed, the answer is: "Call Orange County Sandblasting Co."

Germany's Loss In Herbs Is Wash. State's Gain

ABERDEEN, Wash., (AP)—Thousands of foxgloves growing on the logged-off hillsides of Grays Harbor county—plus failure of a German-cultivated crop—have brought new income to western Washington residents.
Nearly 100 persons have spent part of their time this spring gathering foxglove leaves, which, dried and treated, yield digitalis folia, essential in the treatment of heart disease. An estimated income of $6000 came to the harbor last year from the leaves, formerly regarded as a pest. The leaves have been harvested commercially in Germany for a number of years, but the 1937 crop there was almost a complete failure.

Candidate Beaten By Dead Man Gets Office Anyway

NEW ALBANY, Ind. (AP)—James G. Ferrell, defeated by a dead man for the Republican nomination for city clerk in the May primary, was certified today by the state election board as the legal nominee.
Allen G. Cook died shortly before the primary but his name appeared on the ballot because no Indiana law covered such a case. Voters gave the deceased 144 more votes than Ferrell polled.

Rabbi Wise Denies He Died on Train

NEW YORK. (AP)—Rabbi Stephen S. Wise, energetic 64-year-old leader of the American Zionist movement, arrived from Detroit today with a cheerful denial of reports that he had died aboard the train.
"I have never had less time for dying," he said, "than now."

edge of the legal requirement of lights on automobiles.
Q.—For what distance must an automobile horn be audible? C. R. E.
A.—Under normal conditions, not less than 200 feet.

THE MOUNTAIN ROYS

By PAUL WEBB

STRANGE AS IT SEEMS

By JOHN HIX

FIRST TWIN-KNOTTER

John F. Appleby, an 18-year-old Wisconsin farm boy, one day in 1850 tired of the monotonous task of tying cut bundles of grain by hand, and set out to devise a machine to do the work for him. He constructed a model of a machine that would tie a knot in a piece of twine, but he lacked funds to build a working machine. He finally persuaded his school teacher to loan him $50 and started to work. All went well until the teacher decided that he wanted the money back. Young Appleby was forced to sell at auction all of his belongings to pay back the man, and his twine-knotter model went on the block for 17 cents. A friend bought it--and gave it back to him! Another interruption from the Civil War held up progress on the invention, but eventually Appleby completed his machine and sold full rights to William Deering, a manufacturer. Today nine-tenths of the world's bound grain is handled by machines patterned after Appleby's original model!

New York Stocks

NEW YORK, (AP)—The buying urge came to the surface of the stock market again today after a moderate setback from the steady mid-year advance had run its course.

A late wave of orders, concentrated mostly on coppers, oils and other industrial groups, gave the market a vigorous shove upward, overcoming the hesitancy that prevailed most of the session.

Early losses running to more than two points in representative issues were replaced by gains that ranged to four points in the strongest movers.

Trading slowed almost to a standstill on the sell-off, making a noticeable contrast with the buying stampede, then picked up when the rally resumed. Transactions approximated 1,600,000 shares.

Some stocks swept ahead to new highs for the bull movement on the late buying wave, notably among the mining, oil and miscellaneous industrial groups.

Among the outstanding gainers were Sears, Roebuck, Woolworth, Western Electric, Anaconda Copper, Kennecott, Cerro de Pasco, Johns-Manville, Allis-Chalmers, Carbide, Dow Chemical, Great Northern preferred, International Harvester.

England's Stymie

Although Britain's house of commons is seething these days with wrangles over ways and means to make Gen. Franco's German and Italian aviators quit bombing British ships, heads of government are still taking their customary week-end trips into the country—and few of these delightful journeys are being cut short.

Under all the wrangling almost everybody knows that as long as British ships carry munitions and supplies to Franco's foes, Franco's German and Italian aces will keep on bombing them—no matter how much Franco scolds them, nor even if he slaps them on the wrist.

Prime Minister Chamberlain won't let British ships bound into the Spanish war zone carry anti-aircraft guns on their decks because he knows they are hauling materials that, by any interpretation, are contraband of war.

Arming them would be officially sanctioning the carrying of such materials to Gen. Franco's opponents, and would be anything but conformity to the purported intent of the non-intervention plan which has been nurtured, theoretically, at least, by Great Britain for a year or more.

The Spanish civil war will undoubtedly be decided, as most wars have been decided, by bullets and bombs and action, and not by loud talking in the councils of nations afar which have only a more or less academic interest in the matter.

Max Schmeling isn't so dumb as many of the fight fans have thought. Explaining his defeat, he said it was "because of a sudden unexpected blow." Yeah, about a thousand.

The Japanese Leave!

Great news comes from Bristol Bay, where the whole Japanese fishing fleet, including the floating cannery, has withdrawn from the scene of its operations for the past few years.

Even though the Japanese may reappear at some other point off shore, their departure from Bristol Bay removes the main "sore spot" in the international situation.

This peaceful solution of a pressing problem was brought about by the strength of determination of Alaskans and friendly westerners that our resources should not be taken, regardless of tendencies in some quarters to apply the antiquated and irrelevant tradition of the three-mile limit to salmon fisheries.

Our fishermen were determined to take a stand. They would have been backed up by the American people. The American people are accustomed to "speak softly" through the state department, but the American navy is certainly a "big stick."

While the state department is to be complimented for its part in the negotiations, American vigilance and naval strength have really controlled the situation.

The future safety of our fisheries can well be planned accordingly.

The State Industrial Board of New York has received a claim from a man who says he was bitten by a termite. Doesn't say whether it was a Nazi or a red.

Propaganda for U. S.

Americans have been the world's greatest visitors. President Roosevelt told a delegation from many nations the other day. He invited the peoples of the world to repay those many, many visits in 1939, to have a look at the New York and San Francisco expositions, and to "make friends."

A New Yorker suggests for the New York fair location names such as Liberty avenue, Freedom road, Equality street. Justice lane, Opportunity square, Humanity highway, Democracy row, etc. He would also name prominent features of the exposition with such titles as Free Press, Free Speech, Emancipation, Independence, etc.

Both suggestions are good. The two expositions will not be complete either in purpose or fulfillment unless the peoples of the world come to see them, to take part in them, and to meet and learn to know Americans.

And why should we not, as Americans proud of our institutions, our traditions and our liberties, gently flaunt these by appropriately naming physical features of our fairs with their names, so that all may see?

What Is a Cow?

In New York the school department is introducing hundreds of thousands of city-bound youngsters (and some adults) to the facts of rural life by carting a cow, her two calves and a rustic background around to the most-crowded sections of the city, and leaving them there long enough for all to have a look.

It is a lot cheaper and more convenient to do that way. Not so satisfactory, perhaps, from the children's viewpoint as would be a trip to the real country and association with cows and calves on their native heath. But until special arrangements are made along that line the present method will have to serve.

In our glorious West there should be no reason for any youngster to have to put up with such a subterfuge.

Almost everybody in every city who owns an automobile goes into the country several times each summer. There would be a reward of sheer joy in introducing some underprivileged youngster to the beautiful countryside that most of us adults know and love.

Nation's Capitol

By RAYMOND CLAPPER

WASHINGTON.—We may now be passing through what in time's perspective will come to be looked upon as a second Gettysburg, less spectacular and tragic than the decisive battle that was raging just 75 years ago yesterday, but second only to it in far-reaching effects upon our history.

Dr. Charles Beard says the armed conflict of 75 years ago was only one phase of a social war which constituted the second American revolution.

"At bottom," he says, "the so-called Civil war was a social war, ending in the unquestioned establishment of a new power in the government, making vast changes in the arrangements of classes, the accumulation and distribution of wealth, in the course of industrial employment, and in the constitution inherited from the fathers. Merely by the accident of climate, soil and geography was it a sectional struggle. If the planting interest had been scattered evenly throughout the industrial region, and there had been a horizontal rather than perpendicular cleavage, the irrepressible conflict would have been resolved by other methods and accompanied by other logical defense mechanisms."

In other words, there would have been no sectional war if the slaveholders had been scattered through every business community in the land, in New York, Chicago, Pittsburgh and all the way stations north of the Ohio river instead of being concentrated, as they were, in the Mason-Dixon line, leaving the opposing industrial group massed in the north. So the slave economy of the south and the free-labor industrial economy of the north took up arms and went to it.

In our present economical and social conflict—in which the clash of interests is almost as heated, if not as fundamental, as it was 75 years ago—the individuals on the opposing sides are distributed throughout the country. You have them in every community, facing each other across railroad tracks, the employer in the office and the employee out in the plant; the Roosevelt haters at luncheon in the downtown club and the Roosevelt supporters in their union hall. I don't mean to be literal but only to suggest the broad picture. This is an economic and social conflict, a clash of bloods, a civil war that we have been going through for five years, a third revolution, if the word may be used in its milder meaning.

Whether because of the broad geographic distribution of the opposing individuals, or because the American people have achieved more common sense, we can all give thanks to those forces which shape our destiny that we are threshing it out peacefully, by law and public opinion, instead of with arms. Instead of Gettysburg, we have only the egging of Socialist Norman Thomas by New Jersey Democrats and the consumption of unbelievable quantities of newspaper. No troops. No acute crisis. A revolution in slow motion, throttled down almost to the pace of evolution.

That does not minimize its significance, however. Step by step, Roosevelt has introduced changes. He has been bitterly opposed inch by inch. He has won many battles, lost some. But the struggle goes on. He has brought the stock market and the issuance of securities under federal control, begun dissolution of holding companies, set up a federal reserve system, introduced crop limitation, obtained national legislation for minimum wages and maximum hours, undertaken development of waterpower resources on a scale never before attempted, established federal relief for the unemployed, and thrown the federal government into the greatest public works program since Augustus.

Now he is attempting to clinch those gains, to implant the New Deal indelibly on the democratic party so that it will carry on and not undo his work. Hence the drastic purge of dissenting democrats and the preparations for the fateful battle for control of the party in 1940. These two years mark the decisive period for Roosevelt, and perhaps the second Gettysburg for the country. For the opposition, as for General Lee when he sent Pickett charging into the bloody tangle, it is now or never.

ICE BREAKER
A machine to help Arctic ice breaker ships is being tested by Soviet scientists and is expected to lighten the work of the heavy ships.

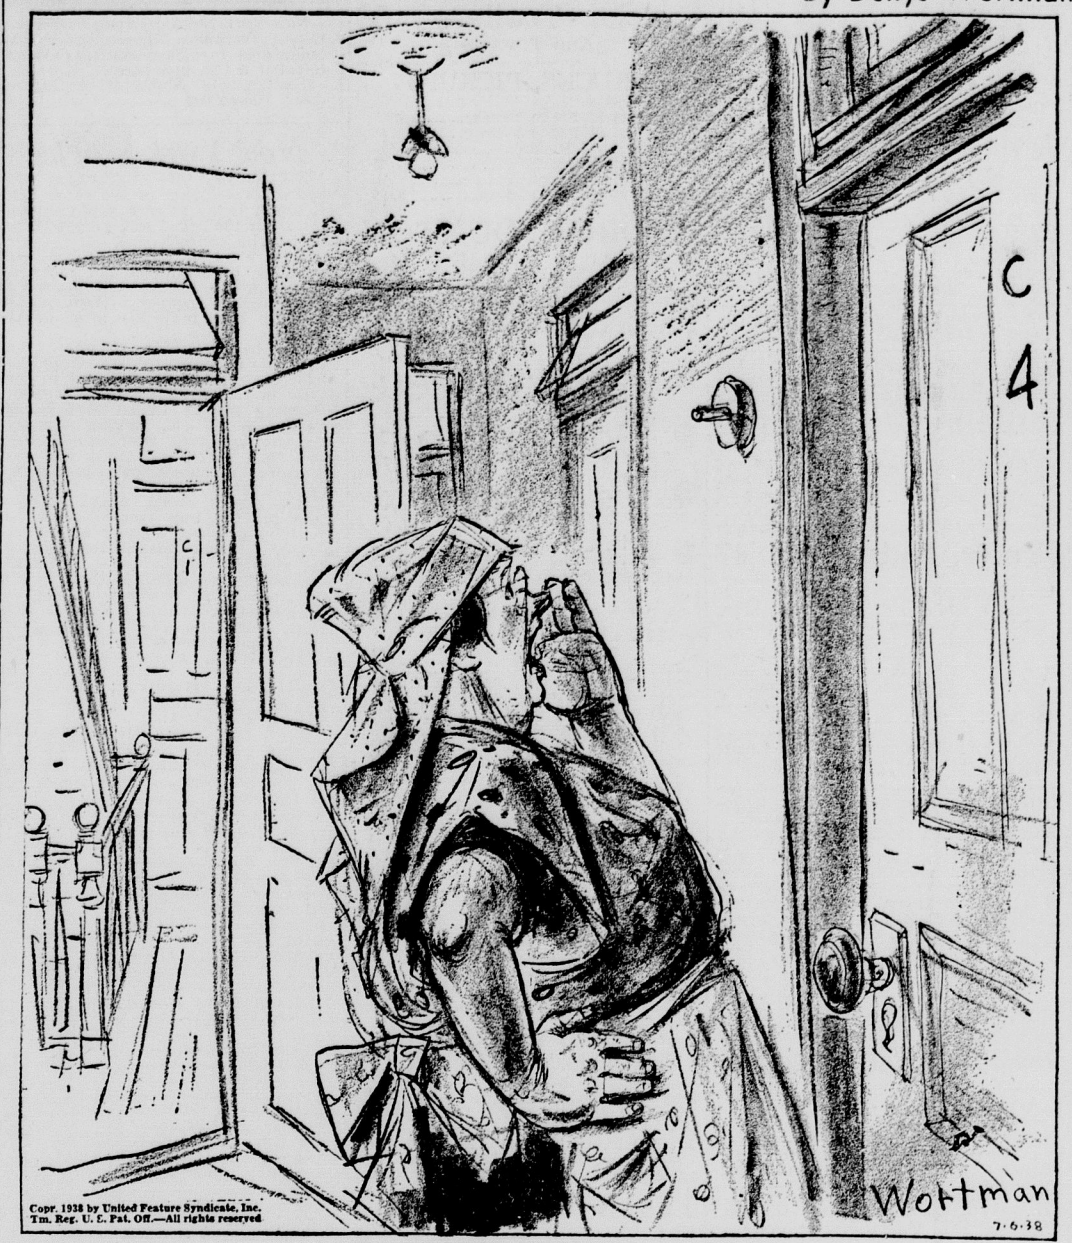

The machine, looking like a railway car, travels on rails and cuts ice to a depth of seven feet with a jet of water. The water has a pressure of 375 pounds to the square inch. The ships used for clearing ice must break it by sheer weight, then lay up for repairs.

The most deadly problem facing America is not fascism or collectivism. It is the widespread feeling that we have a destiny and that we shall reach it without individual thought, individual initiative, and active public service.

The Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN

WASHINGTON.—Probably the most important report Ambassador Joe Kennedy gave to the president during his recent visit was on the probability of war in Europe.

It was his opinion that the next six weeks would decide whether there will be a European war this year or not. If Europe gets past this period, it can breathe easy until next spring.

Kennedy's report checks with other confidential dispatches sent to the state department by U. S. diplomatic observers. There is one big factor which worries them, plus another point which always causes uneasiness in the summer. First is the drive Mussolini and Hitler are making to clean up the Spanish mess in order to concentrate on Czechoslovakia and Central Europe. Originally they had intended to liquidate Spain by May. The German embassy here even notified the state department to that effect, and dropped a hint that if the arms embargo were lifted, American ships bearing supplies would be bombed.

Wheat Delays War
But the unexpected strength of the loyalists forced the bombing of British ships instead, even though the majority of these ships carried food, not munitions.

If the Spanish imbroglio could be liquidated immediately, France would find a new hostile army on her Spanish flank, thus could send fewer troops against Germany if the Nazis attacked Czechoslovakia. That is why German aggression in Central Europe depends upon the war in Spain.

Second is Europe's wheat crop, and the fact that war is always more likely immediately after the harvest.

If war is held off until fall, Germany is not likely to attack, since winter fighting is a poor time for quick victories, and Nazi strategy is based upon a walk-over before others can get into action.

Not—Despite the fact that the resistance of the Spanish loyalists enhances the chance for European peace, Secretary Hull continues adamant against both lifting the Spanish embargo and against imposing one in the war between China and Japan.

Representative Usher L. Burdick is a North Dakota republican, but he hotly denies that President Andrew Jackson, patron saint of the democrats, was the founder of the spoils system.

Burdick contends that Jackson did not oust 1,918 office holders during his first year in the White House, as his federalist opponents charged, but only 919.

"Furthermore," Republican Burdick declares, "it is about time we quit singing out Jackson for blame. The spoils system was not started by him; it began under Washington and has been going on under every president since."

Note—Burdick is the only member of congress who has no committee assignments. When the leaders turned down his committee preferences, he refused to accept what they offered him.

Big Berthas

Justice department's anti-trust division is quietly arming itself to the teeth in preparation for its part in the monopoly investigation.

Dr. Leon Henderson, former chief of the research division of the NRA, WPA economist and one of the most advanced and outspoken braintrusts in the administration.

Professor Walton Hale Hamilton, Yale law teacher, formerly of the NRA, militant anti-trust crusader.

Dexter Keezer, ex-newspaper man, chief of the NRA consumers advisory board, and president of Reed college in Portland, Ore.

Careerist's Impartiality
Up until shortly before the Italians tacitly admitted their planes (operating for Franco) had been bombing British ships, state department boys were putting out word that British ships really were being bombed by Spanish loyalists.

Almost every ship clearing New York for Latin America in recent months has had a load of bombing planes, machine guns, rifles, and high explosives. But a ship clearing New York in mid-July for Venezuela will have a cargo of cattle, horses, jacks, swine, sheep, goats, and poultry—all alive.

While most of the Latin American governments are improving their store of munitions, Venezuela is improving its livestock. Its animal industry expert, Dr. Menalco Solis, Cornell graduate, has bought about 400 prize breeding animals, the largest item being 125 dairy cattle. The highest price is being paid not for a bull, however, but for a Missouri jack.

Science News

Snakes are a comparatively new thing under the sun. In the Age of Reptiles, that ended only 50 or 60 million years ago, they were almost unknown. Only the lizards, the dinosaurs, that lived in Cretaceous times, ever had a chance to see snakes, and those were of the earliest models and probably not numerous at that. At least, their fossils are exceedingly rare today.

Data on the relative recency of snakes are included in a new monograph on Fossil Snakes of North America, written by Charles W. Gilmore of the U. S. National Museum and published by the Geological Society of America.

Snakes really began to get down to business on this planet at about the same time that mammals started their long climb to domination. Newcomers together, the snakes and we.

The first snakes were non-poisonous, resembling modern black snakes and boas in that respect. Venomous species did not appear so far as the present record shows, until upper miocene time, roughly from 13 to 18 million years ago. First rattlesnakes began buzzing in the geologic period immediately after that, the pliocene, which lasted from 13 million years ago until the Ice Age began, about a million years back.

Prize specimen in the collection studied by Mr. Gilmore is the skeleton of a snake embedded in a slab of shale from the Green River formation, in the northern Rockies. Because of the slenderness and fragility of preserved fossils at all; no skeleton so nearly complete as this has ever been discovered.

Technique combining the skills of sculptor and dentist was necessary to free the fine bones from their stone matrix, but it was finally accomplished without mishap. HE FAVORS 'SCRAPING'

To The Editor—At the celebration of Lincoln's last birthday, when Republican orators were shouting, "What would Lincoln think were he alive today?" it must have been very disheartening to the Old Guard when the quiet-spoken Republican governor of Vermont said: "Were Lincoln alive today he would be ashamed of the leadership of the Republican party."

And now Bruce Barton, New York Republican congressman, at the Indiana Republican convention, calls attention to the handwriting on the wall by advocating "a Republican party cleansed, chastened, reeducated to service." May I add the word "scraped"—scrape the tenacious barnacles from the wreck of mossbackism to which they have clung and are still clinging.

'Round-Globe Trip in Week Is Projected

By WATSON DAVIS

Director, Science Service (Copyright, 1938, by Science Service)
OTTAWA. —(Special)— Comfortable weekend cruises to the north pole or one-week cruises around the world in 100-ton flying boats within a few years were predicted here this morning before the American Association for the Advancement of Science by Igor I. Sikorsky, noted aeronautical engineer and designer of two widely used types of clipper ship.

The flying boats, which will bring Liverpool within 12 or 15 hours of Quebec or India and Australia within three days of America, will appear like zeppelins with a wing on the upper surface, he declared.

Crews of future Clippers that will ply the oceans will have their living quarters aboard the planes, in much the same fashion as the crews of today's ocean steamers. All these things are made possible by the relative efficiency of the large flying boat design. "It appears that above the sizes of 50 or 100 tons, the flying boat will become the most efficient and also the most practical type of heavier than air machine," Sikorsky asserted.

The Sikorsky S-42, the flying clipper used by Pan-American Airways between New York and Bermuda and on other runs, is in important respects more efficient than its smaller and older brother, the S-40, the first clipper-type ship brought out for Pan-American Airways and still in use on many runs in the Caribbean and to South America.

The newer, larger plane actually uses less fuel and oil for a thousand-mile trip than its smaller predecessor, even though the former carries a payload more than double that of the latter. The new ship, while carrying 3,393 pounds of payload, requires only 6,692 pounds of gasoline and oil, as against 7,800 pounds of gas and oil for the older ship, which on this same 1,000-mile journey is carrying only 3,200 pounds of payload.

Expressed in a figure used by the aviation industry to describe economic efficiency of an airplane, the newer airplane gets 4.25 ton-miles per gallon as against 1.35 ton-miles per gallon.

What Other Editors Say

HEIRESS 'WANTS IN' AGAIN

American citizenship probably looks a little more desirable now to the Countess Kure von Haugwitz-Reventlow, the former Barbara Hutton, than it did when she freely gave it up a few months ago. Reports are that she would like that citizenship back again.

Even an heiress who has always had pretty much her own way may find that the birthright she relinquished to save herself some tax expenses is not so easy to regain. Plenty of red-tape and a five-year wait stand between her and her citizenship papers.

There are at least a couple of folks here. Heiresses, like other folk, are inclined to want what they haven't got. American citizenship, in this world of war and dictatorship, is a status that plenty of folk in foreign lands would sell their last shirt for if they could get it.—Minneapolis Star.

DALE
CARNEGIE'S
Day
—By—
Day
Philosophy

William L. Murphy told me this story. He is the inventor of the Murphy-In-a-Dor bed which you've probably seen.

In his struggle days, he was badly in need of orders—but so were about a dozen other salesmen. Mr. Murphy knew a man who was in need of his beds—but he was known as the coldest, most unresponsive proposition in the city. He would listen, now and then ask a question, then shake his iceberg head. And that ended it. He never gave any reason for turning an idea down, but it was turned down and no power under high heaven could sway him.

One day young Mr. Murphy buttoned up his overcoat and went to see this man. Of course, he knew he had about as much chance as a Kansas grasshopper in front of a hungry turkey.

Another salesman was already in the office making his presentation. Bill Murphy overheard the conversation and he knew his rival was putting up a good sales talk. But he was turned down. The door opened and Bill could see the icicle himself. The icicle made a slight gesture, barely noticeable, but Bill recognized it. An idea leaped into his mind.

Ushered in, Mr. Murphy moved his chair close to the man, cupped his hand behind his ear. "Excuse me, but would you mind speaking rather loud? I'm slightly deaf."

The iceberg face changed expression. "Well, I can understand that. As a matter of fact I'm a bit deaf myself."

Mr. Murphy had discovered a secret in the man's heart. He was hard of hearing and he didn't want people to know it. But since Mr. Murphy was similarly afflicted, his heart warmed toward him.

Mr. Murphy came away with the order. There was only one catch in it. Every time Mr. Murphy saw the man he had to cup his hand behind his ear and shout! But he got the business.

In a dentist's office the other day I picked up a big thick book of 325 pages. What do you suppose was the subject of this book? Teeth? Oh, no, this author devoted 325 pages to discussing only one tooth—the third molar on the lower jaw. He refuses to discuss in 325 pages the third molar in the upper jaw. He stuck to the lower jaw.

Some day someone will probably become a specialist on the northwest corner of the third molar on the left side of the lower jaw.

The late James Muldoon, famous boxer and speaker, expressed his sense of humor where all who entered could get it. Muldoon had training camp at White Plains for thirty years. Near the entrance he hung a sign bearing these words: "Do right and you will fear no man. Don't write and you will fear no woman."

COUNTY BUYS PRADO SITE, OPENS BIDS

JULY 18 SET FOR HEARING ON ZONE LAW

City council last night set July 18 as the date for public hearing on two parcels of property, owners of which are asking for special use, thereby necessitating a zone change. Another such application was granted during last evening's session and a fourth was denied.

One of the hearings on July 18 will be over a plot of land owned by Orville Pulliam. Pulliam asks for a change in zone from neighborhood business to one of light industry. The lot is located on South Main street between St. Andrew and St. Gertrude streets. The other hearing will concern a lot in Keese's subdivision owned by the Mary Coleman estate. A duplex residence is requested in a single-family dwelling zone.

D. R. Dickson's application for erection of a two-family dwelling on the west side of Lowell street between Eighth and Tenth streets was denied by the planning commission, and the council concurred in the commission's recommendation. John A. Jiles' application for building a duplex at the northeast corner of Kilson and Beverly streets, denied by the planning commission, was held over for further consideration by council. J. R. Armfield's request to erect a duplex on Pine street between Cedar and Halladay streets was indorsed by the council.

Petition from a half dozen property owners in the 1500 and 1600 blocks on S. Main street to close an alley, between Main and Sycamore streets, was referred to the planning commission by the council last night. The commission made no report on the matter.

VALPARAISO, Ind.—An angler hooked a 125-pounder in Flint Lake, north of here, but—it wasn't a fish.

It was a swimmer, fifteen-year-old Victor Beranecy of Gary. Physicians had to remove the hook from the boy's nose.

IT'S JUDGE WHO PAYS

KANSAS CITY, Kan.—Four boys tearfully pleaded for consideration when heard before Judge Henry Meade on complaints dealing with misuse of firecrackers.

"Let's hear you say the Lord's prayer," said Judge Meade.

None could.

The judge passed sentence: Memorize the Lord's prayer by Saturday—and win a 25-cent reward from the jurist.

HUSBAND IS BOSS!

SEATTLE.—A husband is boss—and so may clap an armlock on his wife to keep her from going to work.

So ruled Police Judge William R. Bell in releasing Harry Ulrich from a disorderly conduct charge. Ulrich testified "I just wanted her to stay home and take care of our three children."

FOWL PLAY

CHICAGO.—Policeman Clarence Mau was a bit surprised when he found a fat duck following him on his beat. He turned it over to the dog pound for safekeeping.

When John Nixon, 7, called at the station to claim his pet, Mau took him to the home of Pound Master John McNulty.

"Where is the duck?" asked Mau.

McNulty pointed to a heap of well cleaned bones on the dinner table.

Roosevelts And La Guardia Have Selves A Laugh

What funny story was told probably never will be known, but whatever it was, it was sufficient to produce this strikingly human picture of President and Mrs. Roosevelt and Mayor La Guardia as they toured the New York World's Fair site after laying the cornerstone of the $3,000,000 U. S. building.

CANDIDATES TO TALK BEFORE TOWN MEETS

Candidates will go under the spotlight each Tuesday evening in the new Town Meeting at the Unitarian church. Candidates for coroner will hold the stage next Tuesday.

Plans for the sessions were announced last night at the church's first summer Town Meeting program, which consisted of independence day services conducted by Roy J. Hicks, Paul Velez and the Rev. Julia Budlong, with William Beeman playing a patriotic piano prelude.

The next three July sessions will be devoted to candidates for coroner, district attorney and recorder. In August, evenings will be set aside for candidates for treasurer and surveyor, sheriff and the two superior judgeships. Dr. John D. Bernike, candidate for coroner, already has accepted an invitation to speak next Tuesday; and A. P. Nelson and W. Maxwell Burke have signed up for the next session for would-be district attorneys.

Two Lights to Be Placed at C. M.

Installation of two sodium vapor lights for Costa Mesa intersections was authorized yesterday afternoon by county supervisors on motion of Supervisor N. E. West.

The lights will be located at Seventeenth street and Newport boulevard and at Harbor and Newport boulevards.

Here's the Inside Story of Political Moves Behind Welfare Department Shifts

By FRANK ORR

The real reason Harry Edwards was bounced out of the welfare directorship by the board of supervisors yesterday was the same reason he was bounced in when Jack Snow was fired.

The issue again was Mrs. Belle Spangler, assistant director whose firing caused Snow's ouster.

Supervisor Steele Finley of Santa Ana had the axe out for Snow, whom he had appointed 18 months before—and he had in mind Tom Douglas for the job.

Before Finley could gather his forces to put Douglas in, however, Supervisor John Mitchell had put Edwards' name before the board and found support for him—on an "acting director" basis—from Harry Riley and Willard Smith.

Mitchell wanted Edwards to stay in the job. Edwards was committed to keeping Mrs. Spangler in her post and making her actually second in command of the department. Riley was willing to give Edwards a chance. Chairman Willard Smith was noncommittal.

Again it was N. E. West who got things to boiling. He had upheld Snow and opposed Edwards and Mrs. Spangler. When Edwards was appointed West demanded that Mrs. Spangler be let out. Edwards not only refused, but began strenuous efforts to get

Embargo on Japan and Ban On Japanese Goods Asked

SAN FRANCISCO. (AP)—A resolution asking an embargo on Japan and an American boycott of Japanese goods was forwarded to President Roosevelt and Secretary of State Hull today after Rep. Byron Scott, Long Beach Democrat, had urged such measures at a mass meeting of Chinese sympathizers here last night.

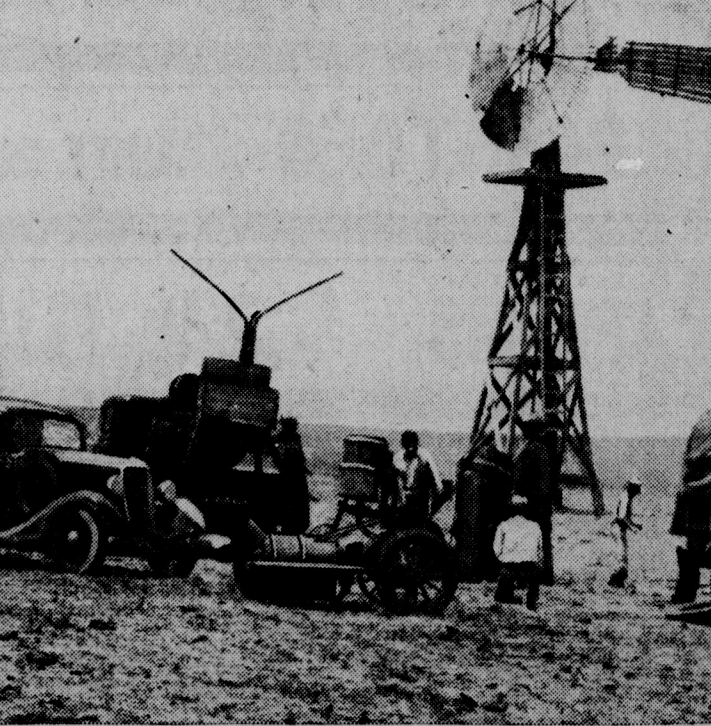

Scott told the gathering, sponsored by the American Friends of the Chinese People, that American credits and arms were making possible Japan's attack on China.

"Fifty-four per cent of Japan's supplies are coming from this country," he declared.

He asserted the neutrality act, which he termed "a fraud if there ever was a fraud," was an "open invitation to aggressor nations to attack smaller nations," and urged close cooperation by peaceful nations to stop "attacks" by Germany, Italy and Japan.

The meeting was in protest against Japanese bombing of civilians in China.

He has headed the institute, which is spokesman for national distilling interests, since 1935.

REVOCATION OF 10 CLUB GRANTS, AIM

Revocation of licenses of 10 out of 13 Orange county gun clubs was threatened today by county supervisors, as directors of the Orange County Water district prepared to file suits which will test validity of a current ordinance licensing the clubs.

Dist. Atty. W. F. Menton, in a letter to the board of supervisors yesterday afternoon, recommended a court test as the only definite way of settling the old fight between water interests and the gun clubs, which flood ponds with water to attract game birds.

EVIDENCE ORDERED

While the test is being prepared, supervisors directed Menton to collect evidence of violation of the present licensing ordinance and present it to them so they may revoke the licenses of the offending clubs.

War has flared for years between the water and gun-club interests. Ranchers claim the clubs waste enough water to irrigate 5000 acres of land.

In 1930 the supervisors outlawed "non-beneficial" use of water; and their ordinance was sustained by the supreme court on several occasions, with Menton representing the county.

COMPROMISE VOTED

In 1936, after 11 prosecutions of gun clubs had failed to stop the marksmen's enthusiasm for filling ponds to attract ducks, supervisors gave up and adopted a "compromise" measure allowing the clubs to give five-year licenses for $25 a year, provided they use not more than nine inches of water.

Water district directors and the supervisors' own water committee agree that 10 out of the 13 clubs have been violating every clause of the ordinance.

Termining the licensing ordinance "no brain child of mine," Menton reminded the board he had successfully fought for the 1930 ordinance in the courts.

MENTON EXPLAINS

Although he had been asked for an opinion on the licensing law's constitutionality, he explained, any opinion of his would have no bearing on a court's decision; and if he agreed with Water Attorney A. W. Rutan the ordinance was no good and the supervisors repealed the law, then found the ordinance to be valid, the county would face damage claims from the clubs.

"The question is," explained Menton, "whether the supervisors can license this use of water when the law permits it to be prohibited." Rutan agreed a test case would be the proper thing, and Chairman Willis Warner of the water board thanked the supervisors.

'HOW ABOUT VIOLATIONS?'

Suddenly William Mauerhan of Katella, peppery gun-club foe, jumped to his feet.

"Has this board done anything about the violations?" he demanded.

"That isn't the board's business," said Menton. "When this came up, I notified the clubs that some of them had been using too much water, and they stopped. Some of them bought more land, so that they could pump more water."

"So they can waste more water," said Mauerhan.

Discussions of the alleged violations continued, and finally on motion of Supervisor John Mitchell the board voted unanimously to have Menton present evidence of violations so the offenders' licenses can be revoked after hearing.

When The Supervisors Met . . . Board Solves Fence Problem And Orders Posthole Crew Back to Work With Shovels

After work on a brand-new fence near the county juvenile home had been halted for several weeks by legal complications, it was ordered resumed yesterday afternoon with a five-foot difference.

Workmen already had dug post-holes when county officials learned the Santa Ana Valley Irrigation company had a five-foot right-of-way along the property line for care of its water pipe. The post-holes were in the middle of the right-of-way. Work was stopped.

Supervisors said the problem was solved yesterday, and told the post-hole diggers to go ahead—but to move the fence over five feet so it would keep off the easement. The fence encloses a county yard where flood control equipment will be stored, over protests of the county juvenile committee.

Mrs. Spangler's Pay Puzzles

A legal snarl today had tied up seven days' pay for Mrs. Belle Spangler, assistant county welfare director fired last month by Director Jack Snow and hired again when Snow was discharged.

Dist. Atty. W. F. Menton was given the job of untangling the situation, made complicated by the fact that three welfare directors have served within the past week.

Mrs. Spangler was fired early last month. Her vacation pay ran until June 23, and Snow approved a demand on the treasury for $125.42 for her June pay.

In the meantime, however, Mrs. Spangler contends Snow told her to "work along as usual" after supervisors had ordered her reinstatement. Snow said she stayed in the office without his consent. She now insists she is entitled to $175, a full month's pay, along with Mrs. Mary Lyons, case aide discharged with her.

Supervisor Steele Finley moved yesterday to cancel the $125.42 demand and substitute the $175 one.

"You can't do that," said Supervisor N. E. West. "She was discharged, and she can't be on the payroll."

"Probably, since she was discharged legally," said Menton, "she can't be paid on the regular payroll. The question is whether she performed services during that period and whether or not she is entitled to be paid for them. I'll look into it and report back next week."

Grape Men to Vote at G. G.

Preparing for a really big election this year, county supervisors yesterday afternoon found themselves faced with another problem—an election so selective there may not be enough people to act as an election board, let alone vote.

It seems, Dist. Atty. W. F. Menton told the board, that San Joaquin valley grape growers want federal aid. Before they can get it, an election must be held in every county in the state where grapes are grown, no matter how few.

Supervisors don't have to pick the election board, fortunately, because they admitted yesterday they only knew one or two grape growers. University of California officials who must pick four or five grape growers to act as an election board may know more.

Last year's grape acreage in the county was only 92, with an f. o. b. income of $1800, crop reports show.

Hoping the referendum would turn out all right, supervisors said the grape growers could cast their ballots at the Garden Grove elementary school. Date for the election will be set later.

County Buys Water Pipe

The county will own 7200 feet of used water pipe next year and may want to sell it cheap. Buying it was easier on the community pocketbook than renting it, however, supervisors decided yesterday.

Purchasing Agent Eugene Fenelon told the board yesterday afternoon the pipe, used for emergency water service to 123 Laguna canyon homes after the March floods demolished the old system, cost 2 cents per foot per month to rent.

When the system first was put in, it was scheduled for only three months' service. Before the canyon can be absorbed in the Laguna Beach water district, however, it will be a year. Fenelon said the rental already paid—amounting to 6 cents—would apply on the purchase price.

A sliding scale of water rates for the canyon residents was adopted, which will bring in $2475 if all pay. Cost to the county will be $2145, and the surplus, if any, will be paid back in the form of a rebate to water users.

Sunset Beach Asks Guard

Paid lifeguards for county-owned public beaches were being considered today by the board of supervisors, following a request from the Sunset Beach chamber of commerce for a full-time man to protect bathers on that community's mile-long beach.

Dana Lamb, appointed head of the county's coast patrol, will be summoned by supervisors for a discussion of the question. Lamb and two full-time assistants now are hired to patrol the coastline.

"I thought his volunteer guards were going to take care of everything," remarked Supervisor Harry Riley yesterday afternoon. "I thought that's what he was hired for."

"Oh," said Supervisor John Mitchell, "he spends most of his time down below Laguna."

"He shouldn't be spending time anywhere," said Supervisor N. E. West. "He's supposed to be out patrolling."

Supervisors Work Late

County supervisors set a new record for late adjournment yesterday, when they finally closed their books and brief cases at 5:45 p. m.

Stymied during the morning session by hearing 22 bids of 29 items each for railroad and highway moving near Prado dam, the board found itself far behind during the afternoon.

"Am I too optimistic," grinned Dist. Atty. W. F. Menton as dinner time approached, "to think that we're about through?"

The board adjourned five minutes later.

Fireboat Will Cost $8000

Fireboats equipped for fighting fires, saving lives and towing disabled boats don't come ready-made, Purchasing Agent Eugene Fenelon told the board of supervisors yesterday afternoon.

He's going to have one built. The boat will cost about $8000, and will be used for Newport harbor. It was recommended by the 1937 grand jury for better fire and rescue protection for the harbor area.

Beard to Attend Convention

County Highway Supt. A. A. Beard, planning to attend the convention of the American Society of Civil Engineers in Salt Lake City July 20 to 22, was given en a two-week leave of absence from the state by the board of supervisors yesterday afternoon. Beard's leave will run from July 18 to July 26.

Anaheim Street Voted

Opening of Commercial street, Anaheim, to the new Cal-Jules by-products plant was authorized yesterday afternoon by the board of supervisors when no one appeared to protest the move. North Olive street already has been opened to the new plant, and Commercial street will be opened for a quarter-mile from Lemon street to Patt street.

ARMY WANTS MORE LAND PURCHASED

Paving the way for beginning of construction on the $7,000,000 Prado dam in Santa Ana canyon this fall, county supervisors yesterday took action on four fronts, by:

1. Buying land for the dam-site and taking an option on 1936.96 acres of reservoir basin, at a total estimated cost of $209,879.

2. Agreeing to buy between $100,000 and $200,000 more land than they expected because army engineers demanded it.

3. Opening bids for the $241,000 job of moving the canyon highway and Santa Fe railroad out of the dam builders' way.

4. Agreeing to pay Special Counsel B. Z. McKinney and Albert Launer each $50 a day for preparation of land condemnation cases, and $100 a day for appearing in court.

ARMY PROVIDES SURPRISE

Biggest surprise of the day was revelation that army engineers will insist that the county flood control district own outright about 4000 more acres than had been expected, contrary to bond campaign slogans of last year and understanding of all concerned.

The county, the army has decided, must buy outright all Prado basin land below the spillway crest in stead of land below the water level. Plans had been to buy flood easements from owners of the higher land, which would not be awash unless a flood greater than the 1916 inundation occurred.

WEST, FINLEY PROTEST

Over vigorous protests of Supervisors N. E. West and Steele Finley, the board adopted a resolution promising to buy the land. West and Finley claimed the board and county voters who last year authorized a $2,500,000 flood control bond issue were "misled."

The understanding had been that the county would buy all land exposed to maximum water level. Now the army insists the county buy all land up to 543 feet—an increase of 4000 acres at a cost of between $25 and $50 an acre. The purchase price will not be a total loss, however, as the county may lease the higher land for pasture purposes.

SMITH EXPLAINS

"The army's going to have to explain this right-about-face," said West. "They led us into a false position by assuring us that the dam would be all right. If this is some dictator's idea of an arbitrary demand that they should make just because they're the government, I don't like it."

Chairman Willard Smith, urging the other side, said the flood control district already had agreed to buy all land the army considered necessary. He said the new demand was "not unexpected," although other supervisors said they never had heard of it before.

"The biggest flood in history wouldn't have flooded that land," said West.

Purchase of land for the dam-site was authorized when Chairman Smith was instructed to sign a contract with the Santa Ana River Development company, purchasing for the flood control district 161.83 acres of land for the damsite at a price of $12,385.

3 TO SET PRICE

Options in the contract permit the county to buy 1936.96 acres more of reservoir basin for $197,480 and 1936.96 acres needed at $100 an acre. The county also gets permission to construct a railroad right-of-way over eight acres, to be purchased at a price set by a three-man board of appraisers.

Eleven acres of streets in the city of Prado, supervisors were told, may or may not go with the 1936.96 acres, since title to them is not determined. They may have to be bought separately.

BIDS CLOSE

Awarding of the contract for moving a mile and a half of railroad and highway awaits recommendation of the state department of public works, expected by next Tuesday.

A difference of but $191 separated low and second low bidders, and fourth and fifth low bidders among the 22 contractors seeking the job were but $20.84 apart.

Low bidder was a combination of Person and Hollingsworth company and Wilbur C. Cole of Los Angeles, bidding $241,163.59 for moving the road and railway, preparing them for surfacing and tracklaying, respectively.

SENT TO SACRAMENTO

Second low was Oswald Brothers of Los Angeles at $241,374.97; third was Claude Fisher Co., Ltd., Los Angeles, $251,917.70; fourth was Granfield-Farrar and Carlin, Livermore, $254,822.81; and fifth was United Concrete Pipe company, Los Angeles, $254,843.45.

All five bids will be sent to Sacramento for checking and a recommendation. The other 17 bidders got their $500,000 in certified checks back.

Costa Mesan Adds 20,000 Votes And Jumps To Second Place

Acquisition of 20,000 votes during a 24-hour period jumped Hugh Davis of the TeWinkle hardware store in Costa Mesa 13,000 tallies ahead of Charles Neer in The Journal's Courtesy and Efficiency contest to place Davis second.

And now Davis is out to overcome his final obstacle, that of outrunning popular Charlotte Bacon of the Santa Ana Owl Drug company. Friends of Charlotte are still viewing in a light mood the efforts of other nominees to beat her in the contest which has 10 days yet to go.

But there are other nominees doing some rapid stepping up in the courtesy marathon and one of them may land in first, second or third places before the completion of the race.

J. R. McClain, employed at the Orange County Ranch Market, who 10 days ago was way down on the list with a standing of 16,400, today is making rapid strides to the top. On July 1, McClain doubled his vote with a score of 33,100 and was promptly labeled as one of the many threatening dark horses.

Russell "Red" Gundren of the West Fourth Street Alpha Beta Market was still so far ahead of McClain that neither one could spot the other. But with the tally of Monday evening, this week, McClain annexed Gundren's title as the leading courteous grocer in town and has 15,800 votes to spare.

But it's not likely that this condition will remain long, because "Red" has a red-headed "campaign manager" who just can't stand seeing his candidate taking second place to any other grocery man in town. So the standings of these two individuals are subject to radical change on a minute's notice.

Jessie Woodruff, secretary to the manager of the Orange County Builders' exchange, continues a firm grasp on fourth position and may in the next few days land in third or a spot above. She has 127,000 votes. Tagging her closely is Marie Foltz, Reliable Sheet Metal works of Orange, with 117,000 scores, and Nora Mae Bingle, of Bubbies' Malt shop, who Monday broke into the 100,000 column, is in sixth place. Helen Lee Goldsmith, Southern California Telephone company, also made the 100,000 mark Monday evening and has a rating of seventh on the list.

The field of nominees below these might well be termed as a group of "dark horses," any one of whom may cop off the top honors before the finish of the race, July 16.

Among those who have shown changes in their standings Monday evening over Saturday night are the following: Gertrude Wilcox, James Valentine, Mae Thomas, Alice Skinner, Eloise Schrier, Lupe Rodriguez, Roda Ramlose, Lester Pearl, John Page, Joe Ojeda, Bob Nanney, Don McFarren, Robert Munro, Gladys Marguerat, Rev. A. E. Kelley, Ida Mae Jones, Harriet Jones, Laura Hill, Mary Henderson, Lehman Gerkin, Madge Fellhauer, Bob Drysdale, Margaret Crane, Dorothy Close, Frank Cagle, Evelyn Bishop, Chuck Beach, Mrs. Alma A. CARPENTERS SEAT LEADER

Charles Bowland was inducted into the presidency of the Orange county American Federation of Labor Carpenters' union at a joint installation of officers of this group and its auxiliary held in the Labor temple last night.

One of the highlights of the occasion was a talk by Norris Stone, prominent member of the group, who told members he will visit the national headquarters at Washington, D. C., during a trip he plans to take to the East this summer.

The apprenticeship training classes under the direction of the adult education division of the public school system was outlined to those present. A potluck dinner preceded the business session and program.

A cement for vacuum furnaces which does not become brittle, adheres to any surface and can be reused indefinitely, has been announced.

SNOW WHITE TO REMAIN

Walt Disney's sensational success feature production, "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs," will show for the last time tonight at the Broadway theater.

But because of popular demand, Manager George King has arranged to hold over the Technicolor production for an extra showing at the West Coast theater. The show will move to the West Coast tomorrow, ending Saturday night.

Disney's first feature-length animated film with music is definitely not an elongated cartoon. It is done in soft tones of color, not in the bright hues of Mickey Mouse and Silly Symphony shorts. Each scene is an exquisite composition of color and shading.

Short subjects on the program include a Robert Benchley comedy, "An Evening at Home"; a Pete Smith sport short, "Surf Heroes"; a novelty, "Return of the Buffalo," and World News events.

Shakespeare mentioned America once in his plays: in "The Comedy of Errors."

Her courteous dealing with members of the Orange County Builders' exchange, as secretary to the manager, have won Jessie Woodruff hundreds of friends, both in and out of the contractors' association, during the year or so she has resided in Orange county. Born and raised in the South, Dixie lost a fine young lady when Jessie Woodruff moved to California, which was Orange county's good fortune.

TOWNSENDITES, G. O. P. WILL DINE AND TALK

Plans for a campaign dinner opening a Republican-Townsendite drive to elect Mayor C. T. Johnson of San Bernardino to congress were being made here today, following a meeting of 18 leaders last night.

A joint committee of nine Republicans and nine Townsendites authorized the dinner, expected to attract 500 persons.

Publication of a district party newspaper for precinct workers was authorized. The paper will be published in Riverside and will reach 1500 persons, including delegates to the Riverside pre-primary convention held last April and others active in the party campaign.

Last night's meeting was attended by a committee from Riverside, San Bernardino and Orange county Townsend groups, pledged to vote against Rep. Harry Sheppard, the man they supported two years ago, and for Johnson, the Republican nominee.

Cruiser Missing in Catalina Channel

SAN PEDRO, Calif. (AP)—Coast guardsmen searched the Catalina channel today for the 30-foot power cruiser Rada, missing since Monday.

Widow Loses Suit

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Mrs. John L. McLaurin was loser today in a suit to collect $25,903 damages for the fatal shooting of her husband on a deer hunt in Modoc county two years ago.

L. A. Musicians to Play for Rivals in Labor Day Parade

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Labor day bands won't show partiality between the A. F. of L. and the C. I. O., it was indicated today.

C. I. O. groups asked the police commission for a Labor day parade permit, saying that the same musicians who'll play for A. F. of L. marchers will also play for them.

The commission suggested that two factions arrange to parade in one uninterrupted line if they were so harmonious musically.

CRUSHER HELD NUISANCE

A crushing device, in the 800 block of East Fourth street, was declared a nuisance last night by the city council and the city attorney was instructed to abate it.

Neighbors in the vicinity of the mechanism complained of asserted noise from it and asked the council to remove same as a nuisance several weeks ago.

MARKET COMMENT

 Introducing
Mr. Louis
McCann

Genial owner of the Broadway Fruit Stand, Mr. McCann came here with his wife and son from San Diego and vicinity about a year ago and purchased the Broadway which is rated one of the largest businesses of its kind in Orange county and since that time has increased the business so much that several new employees have been added which means more Orange county citizens being put to work.

The vacation fever is running through the market like nobody's business. . . . Charley Eaton can't get a trip to the northern end of the coast out of his mind at all. . . . Mrs. Louis McCann, "Mac's" boss, is at the resort at Yosemite, where "Mac" took a flying trip over the Fourth of July. . . . Art, of the Donut Shop, is just about ready to take off for anywhere at any time. . . . "Tuck" of the Fruit Stand Tuckers, is wondering how in the heck he and the Missus are going to get away, and when. . . . and Jeters just figures "what's the use," there's no rest for the wicked.

Most of the boys and girls in the market came back to work in pretty good shape after the two-day holiday. . . . but some had the old wanderlust in their hides and had to get rid of a tour right now. . . . MORAL. . . . the fiddler must be paid.

And if you think the fiddler ain't a guy to remember his debts, take a good look at some of the unburned individuals behind the various counters. . . . a slap on the back, to some of those birds is allasamee as bad as committing mayhem. . . . and in some cases it would be just as well to commit suicide, 'cause you'd get killed quick anyhow.

Don't take the above yarn too seriously folks. . . . we don't think there's a guy in the market who'd actually commit murder just because you happened to bump him one on a badly sun-burned shoulder. . . . but we got a hunch you'd be taking a good chance on getting maimed. . . . nice outlook for the glad-hander.

Here's a time saving hint for some of you busy shoppers with the upkeep of a car on your minds. . . . the Goodrich Service Station is right next to the market. . . . you can kill two jobs in the time it takes to complete one. . . . just drop the car off at Hubert Brown's Goodrich Store, have it greased or whatever it may need, while you make the purchases needed to fill the family pantry. . . . the service is above reproach, the products are top grade, and we know he's a good neighbor. . . . and good neighbors don't grow on bushes.

If convenience means anything in your busy life, remember that there is a United States postoffice located in the Grand Central Market. . . . Uncle Sam, with the able help of Mrs. Taylor, postmistress, has been doing a sweet job of helping the folks back home hear from little Willy in Santa Ana.

While we're yapping about convenience, you might thank us for reminding you again that the Grand Central Market maintains a parking lot, for you who want parking space, while shopping with your merchants. . . . in case you don't know the location, it's on First street, between Broadway and Sycamore, directly across from the Goodrich Service Station.

Bud Levin, who runs the "house of soccer and grunt" has been in and out of the market so many times in the last couple of months that the boys take it for granted it's his headquarters. . . . and most any time of the day you can hear a discussion about who's who in the rasslin' racket. . . . if you want to know the lowdown on who can get the dirtiest holds, and sock the hardest, drop around and lend an ear.

July is sale time in the women's apparel world. . . . and sale time is save time in the women's world. . . . nuf sed. . . . except that Dorothy's Dress Shop is slinging a real sale. . . . dresses at $2.98 a copy. . . . and they look like twice the dough.

No, lady, that good looking brute dashing from one merchant to the other in the market, isn't a new tax collector, he's a Journal advertising man pinch-hitting for the guy who regularly has this beat. . . . treat him easy boys, he may be tender. . . . but we don't think so.

PASSPORT TO PERIL

by DAVIS DRESSER

CHAPTER XXIV

FOR a week, Jim had been languishing in prison. He had spent endless hours pacing the narrow confines of his damp, stone cell, or staring blankly at the bit of sky he could see through the tiny barred window set high in one wall.

Zach and Don Jose had been allowed to see him for a while each day, but their visits were not exactly cheering. For, with each visit, the two old men became more and more despondent. Their worst fears in regard to the effect his arrest would have on the natives had been realized. Word from the interior had revealed that, as the news had swept through the country, the populace had swung back to Strade with a vengeance, enraged that they had been duped by a man whom they now believed to be Jimmy Long's slayer. And Strade was making the most of his advantage, riding on the crest of the wave of hate that had risen against him.

Moreover, Zach and Don Jose had been unable to make any headway in their attempts to extradite Jim from his predicament. They had seen the President, but had been unable to persuade him to do anything in Jim's behalf.

"He personally seems inclined to believe you are innocent," Zach had told Jim, "but he says it is not for him to decide. . . . that he must not antagonize the American authorities by refusing to grant their request for your extradition. When we pointed out to him the ruinous effect your arrest had had on our efforts to prevent the revolution, he argued that even if he should release you, it wouldn't alter the situation—it wouldn't convince the people that you had been wrongfully accused."

"Instead he said, it would only make matters worse. If he set free a man charged with murdering the son of the country's national hero, even those still loyal to the government might turn against it and swing over to the revolutionists. Moreover, he said, you'd probably be mobbed the minute you got out. I guess he's right," Zach had ended morosely. "but it sure is a devilish situation!" V. ara, too, had been allowed to see Jim a few times, and her visits had been more cheerful. The sight of her face had done him good. . . . but she had been so downhearted as to be so downhearted as Zach and Don Jose, optimistically stating that everything would turn out all right in the end. Jim knew she took this attitude just to cheer him up, but it helped.

ON the seventh day of his incarceration when Zach came to see him, the old man was in the very depths of gloom.

"Fighting has broken out in the interior," he reported grimly, his face gaunt as he looked through the bars of Jim's cell door. "And the rumor is that the revolutionists plan to march on Cochise within forty-eight hours."

He hesitated a moment before he went on. "But that's not the worst. Jim, Heaven knows, we hadn't much hope left, anyway, of stopping the revolution! But now, we've heard from our spies, who've been circulating among the revolutionaries here in town that if they succeed in capturing the capital, they're going to drag you out of jail and string you up! Execute you themselves right here on the spot. Instead of letting you go back to the States to stand trial."

Strade's idea. He's incited them to do that! He knows that, if he lets me get back to the States, I might succeed in proving that he not I, killed Long. I know 'too much, and might succeed in making the authorities believe what I know! So naturally, he wants the mob to get me before I can talk!"

Sidewalk Tumble Leads to $1695 Demand on Council

Susan M. Fritcher, 712 Bush street, in charges presented the city council last night, holds the city negligent for a buckled section of sidewalk at Tenth and Main streets which she says caused her to stumble and fall last May 18. She asks $1695 in damages.

She pointed out in the charges that as a result of the fall she broke her right arm, turned her ankle and bruised her knees. She claims $1500 in personal damages, $45 for hospital bills and $150 loss of salary from the fall. The council referred the matter to the city attorney.

It is estimated that as much as $1,000,000,000 of new capital will be spent on expansion of chemical enterprises within the next 18 months.

Russell Kingman, treasurer, represented the United States Lawn Tennis association. Crowds of the tennis queen's admirers assembled at the church and along the route of the cortege.

FASHIONETTES

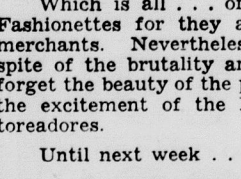

By MAXINE STOREY

Top-Hat & Petti-Coat

After seeing the much-publicized bull fights in Tia Juana on the Fourth . . . I feel like Ferdinand and would prefer to sit. In spite of the fact that the bulls seemed more than outnumbered by an assortment of matadores . . . picadores . . . sabers, knives, and banderillas, no pageant could rival the colorful display of the bull fight. And enjoying the spectacle with colorful shawls draped over their boxes, were many movie stars including the dashing Leo Carrillo who lead the parade and outshone his fellow riders in a white outfit with sombrero and saddle . . . as well as horse to match. Myrna Loy, gowned in a simple blue frock trimmed in white with matching off-the-face hat . . . sat with her husband and clapped her hands in glee when the favored torador honored her by tossing his hat to her box before going into the fight . . . Nancy Carroll was hidden behind the largest picture hat I've seen yet . . . Edgar Bergen, the Ritz Brothers, Errol Flynn, and Margaret Sullivan were among the holiday crowd who dined at the Conrado Hotel following the festivities.

Which is all . . . of course . . . aside from the point of Fashionettes for they are to acquaint you with your local merchants. Nevertheless . . . a bull fight is like that; in spite of the brutality and unfairness of the battle, one can't forget the beauty of the pageantry, the grace of the matadores, the excitement of the Melicans in honoring their favorite toradores.

Until next week . . . adios amigos. MAXINE.

YOUR SUMMER ENTERTAINING, whether it be in patio or living room will be so complete if you add a beverage set from WIESSEMAN'S. Main and Fifth streets to your cupboard of glassware. These beverage sets in every lovely color imaginable, are so ideal for serving liquids with luncheons, afternoon bridge parties, or evening get-togethers. Several sets of 12 glasses, one with attractive blue and white polka dots, come with white enameled racks including places in which each glass rests secure from danger of spilling contents. These are priced attractively at $1.95 for the set. Others, eight glasses and a rack are only $1.45.

I especially liked the Fostoria seven-piece sets, including a beautifully shaped pitcher and six glasses. One group is in a lovely shade of light blue and the other is in the more simple white . . . But if you prefer gaiety for your liquid serving, you would adore the Mexican theme hand-painted on exquisite tall glasses . . . But don't miss seeing WIESSEMAN'S display for yourself . . . because the cool loveliness of these beverage sets will make your summer a certain success.

7 SILENT L. A. POLICEMEN SUSPENDED

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Seven Los Angeles policemen were under suspension today for refusal to answer questions about the bombing of Harry Raymond, private investigator.

Chief James E. Davis ordered the suspensions at the recommendation of his board of inquiry. The officers, Donald M. Draper, D. T. Phegley, Richard Emery, W. S. Jamieson, Leo F. McDonald, Homer Maples and Fred A. Browne, were charged with conduct unbecoming an officer.

The men are former members of the police spy squad. They worked under Capt. Earle Kynette, who, with Roy J. Allen, was convicted of the Raymond bombing. Browne was acquitted.

The suspended officers now have the right to ask for trial by the police board of rights, which is selected by them from the names of six officers ranking about captaincies. The selection is made from a jury wheel. The jury is empowered to sustain the board of inquiry or modify the suspensions.

HO-HO-KUS TO END RACING

HO-HO-KUS, N. J. (AP)—Mayor Bernard L. Lamb called a special meeting of the borough council for tonight to act on the question of banning automobile racing at the Ho-Ho-Kus speedway where 11-year-old Robert Thompson was killed and 17 persons injured Monday.

"I would say this—that Ho-Ho-Kus has had its last automobile race," said Lamb, also state finance commissioner, in forecasting a ban on racing at the half-mile track. Five or six meets have been held every season for the past 15 years.

AIR MAP PLAN BEFORE CITY

Should Santa Ana assist in paying for a proposed aerial map of Orange county?

This question came before the city council last night when a letter from the Watson Airfoto company of Long Beach was read urging the cities of the county to pay for such a map, in lieu of the fact that the county board of supervisors had not taken favorable action on paying for the project out of county funds.

The matter was referred to City Engineer J. L. McBride who is to obtain further particulars from the company and report back to the council at another meeting.

L. A. Contractors Low on Spadra Job

SACRAMENTO. (AP)—Los Angeles county contractors submitted low bids for construction and equipment of the new Pacific Colony at Spadra, in that county, the division of architecture announced today.

John Strona, Pomona, bid $218,470 on general work on three units of the institution. Consolidated heating and air conditioning company of Los Angeles was low on heating and ventilation at $15,960, and Kenneth Fraser, Pasadena, bid $12,992 on plumbing. Vencott company, Los Angeles, bid $6547 on electrical work.

A rubber substitute made from tung, soy bean and other vegetable oils is said to have the elasticity of natural rubber.

TOWNSEND NEWS, VIEWS

By WALTER R. ROBB

(This column deals with Townsend news and views. Any opinions which are expressed herein are not necessarily those of The Journal.)

Tonight at 7:30, in Santa Ana Townsend hall, will occur the July meeting of the Orange County Townsend Club Officers' association, with W. J. Pickering, president, in charge. All past and present Townsend club officers who are loyal to the leadership of Dr. Townsend are members in good standing of the association. All Townsend speakers who now hold permits as signed and executed by the National Townsend Los Angeles branch office are also members who are entitled to a voice in the association's business proceedings. All such members are urged to be in attendance tonight, according to a notice issued by Mrs. Lottie Pickering, secretary.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Matthews, members of Santa Ana Club No. 2, who have been in failing health for some time, recently moved from 1057 West First to 710 West Sixth street. They moved into the property vacated by the Earl Matthews family, who took up residence in the 1400 block on West Third street. Miss Zelpha Matthews, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Matthews and a granddaughter of W. H. Matthews and wife, is home for a brief visit from attending school in Los Angeles. Because of the failing health of both the elderly Matthews, a group of their Townsend friends gathered in at moving time and literally took possession of moving proceedings, and placed them, bag and baggage, already set up, ready to go in their new residence quarters. It will be remembered that W. H. Matthews was the first president of Santa Ana Club No. 2, and was particularly efficient in that role until failing health forced his retirement. Another daughter of the Earl Matthews family, Miss Marjorie Matthews, is now employed in San Diego. The entire Matthews group are members of Club No. 2 of this city. This club did not meet last Monday evening because of the holiday, but will be in session again on July 11 in Santa Ana Townsend hall.

Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Braddy, Rochester street, Costa Mesa, were the hosts of a family gathering held in their home on July Fourth. The group present included, in addition to Mr. and Mrs. Braddy, Mr. and Mrs. Walter R. Robb, in celebration of whose birthdays the affair was held, and Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Thachrey and daughter, Jean, of Santa Ana; Mr. and Mrs. Gene L. Robb and daughter, Sherill, of Orange; Virginia Taylor, Joe Courfrette and Miss Catherine Donahoe of San Diego; Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Braddy and daughter, Maryland, of Costa Mesa, and Orville Overman of the same city; Mrs. Mary Braddy, elderly grand and great-grandmother of most of the group, and Mrs. Mae Crinklaw, niece of Mrs. Mary Braddy and cousin to others, who is on the Pacific coast on a tour from Clearwater, Neb. The gathering included a dinner at noon, when birthday cakes were cut, and a general good time enjoyed.

Mrs. Florence B. Parks, Buena Park Club No. 1 secretary, is one of the most faithful correspondents this column has ever had. She never fails to write each week just what her club is doing or failing to do. That is what every correspondent should do, then this writer could give the publicity essential for boosting the attendance at your club gatherings. Here's another suggestion, when a Townsend club discovers a person who will faithfully discharge his or her duties as a correspondent, she should be retained in that capacity. Not everyone is adapted to such work. It isn't always that a secretary of the club is the right person, as it happens to be in Mrs. Park's case. The important thing for each club is to find the person Angeles provided the musical part of the program, and Erick Lusk of Long Beach was the speaker—and what a talk he gave. I wish more could have heard him. Next Thursday night, July 7, at 7:30, is a business meeting. Signed, Mrs. F. B. Parks, secretary and correspondent.

Mrs. Parks put all of the above on a postcard and mailed same to the writer in plenty of time, as you will note by the date for this notice to be given. The writer ventures the opinion that more people will be in the Buena Park club meeting tomorrow night than would have been true without Mrs. Parks' faithfulness as a club reporter. There, I am not going to harp on this string any more at this time. If you don't want your club to have publicity, then appoint someone as a correspondent who don't give a whoop whether your club succeeds or not, and then if after they have been appointed if they fail to function, why keep them on forever anyway. I am not angry, but I'm interested in helping make your club successful.

Mrs. Walter R. Robb, "Santa Ana, Lock Box 441: "This is July 1, 1938. The Buena Park Townsend Club No. 1 was well attended last Thursday evening. Other clubs were represented. Madame Mamie Stark, Mrs. Evangeline Burnham, Alfred Redman and C. B. Probst of Los

'Kemi-Kulture' to Be Club's Topic

"Kemi-Kulture," or tank farming, will be discussed tomorrow morning at the Breakfast club by an authority, who will be presented by Fred Schmeitzer, program chairman.

In addition to the address there will be a vocal solo by Ann Wetherell, accompanied by Olive Schweitzer, a piano solo by Miss Schweitzer and also a reading by Miss Wetherell.

The club will elect officers for the ensuing year at tomorrow morning's session.

Car Crank Fires Gun, Kills Officer

RALSTON, Neb. (AP)—Lester Scoville, 42, deputy marshal here, was killed early today when, investigators said, his gun struck the spinning crank of his car and was discharged.

Officers said Scoville apparently was cranking his car and had spun the crank so vigorously the gun dropped from his shoulder holster, striking the crank as it fell.

$3070 DEMAND MADE ON CITY

Florence M. Bagley, 1908 Valencia street, petitioned the city council last night for $3070 for personal injury and property damage she says she sustained when her car collided with one driven by a member of the city staff last March 27. The accident occurred at Bristol and Edinger streets. She listed injuries to herself as consisting of pulled ligaments, a bruised cartilage, a wrenched shoulder, cuts, contusions and bruises. For these she asks $2500. She also demands $425 as damage to her car, $35 for medical expenses, $50 loss of salary as result of the accident and $60 for destruction to her clothing.

The council turned the matter over to the city attorney without further discussion.

Engineer to Talk

Alton Rogers, General Electric company engineer, will speak on interior lighting at tomorrow's Lions club meeting in Masonic temple. Harold Matthews is program chairman.

Willits St. Section To Be Abandoned

Steps will be taken to abandon Willits street between Sullivan and the westerly line of Raitt street, it was decided by the city council last night on application of C. D. Swanner.

Swanner presented his request through E. B. Sprague of the Santa Ana Mortgage and Investment company. It was pointed out in the communication to the council that this portion of Willits street has never been generally used.

Free Show Plan Dropped by City

B. Martin's proposal to conduct free motion pictures for the public in Birch street park this summer was denied by the city council last night upon recommendation of the special committee investigating the application.

Martin asked the city to foot the bill for presenting the pictures. The committee, looking into the matter for the trustees, consisted of Phil Brown, Plummer Bruns and E. H. Layton.

ICE CHAMP IN HOSPITAL

HOLLYWOOD. (AP)—Jack Dunn, champion ice skater, lay seriously ill in a hospital today while his two-year struggle for a film career faced another disappointing delay. The young Briton was stricken with a streptococci infection as a result of an eye irritation caused by cigarette ashes. The infection affected not only his eyes but his nose and throat, with a crisis expected in 48 hours.

Dunn was selected recently to play Rudolph Valentino in a film biography of the romantic star. As a preliminary, he was to take the lead in "Duke of West Point," starting in three weeks.

UPLAND BOY DROWNED

SAN BERNARDINO. (AP)—The body of Howard Wayne Lee, Upland youth, was hunted today in Jenks lake, where he disappeared during a swimming party.

An American locust tree that was carried to Germany in a flower pot in 1710 has died—a tree 80 feet tall—and is to be preserved standing as a "historic tree ruin."
